THE HORSE DISEASE.

Marked Improvement in New York City—Business at a Stand-still in Jersey City—Spreading in Chicago—The Racing Horses in Philadelphia Attacked—Over One Hundred Cases in Oil City.

NEW YORK CITY AND VICINITY.

NEW YORK, November 1.—Although travel is as yet considerably obstructed, there is a marked improvement in the horses. The livery stables are greatly improving. The malaria is said to be fully under control, and if there are still cases of danger they are only those which have recently occurred, and have not passed the climax as yet. The horses which have had perfect rest are the first to show symptoms of improvement. Many of the truckmen's trucks are out again, but it will probably be some days before the car companies will fully resume running. Eighty-five deaths were reported yesterday.

Favorable weather has caused a great improvement among the horses of Brooklyn.

Business is comparatively at a stand-still in Jersey City, consequent upon the prevalence of the horse disease. Thirty-three horses have died.

Evening.—Ninety-two deaths from the horse disease were reported in this city this morning, and thirty-one in Brooklyn. There is a marked improvement in the disease, and it is believed that by Monday the cars will be running on nearly all the lines.

CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, November 1.—The horse disease is still spreading, and it is reported that at least twelve hundred are already affected. Great care is being taken of the sick horses, and as the weather is fair and the experience of Eastern stable men in the treatment of the disease available, it is hoped that its visitation may be shorter here than it has been in other places. Street car horses appear to be little affected so far, and up to this morning no cars have been withdrawn. One of the Wabash Overland lines has been compelled to withdraw a large number of stages, and the West avenue street line is also running short.

Evening.—The number of horses in the city affected with the prevalent distemper is now estimated at 4,000 or 5,000, though the majority of the cases are of a very mild form. The West Madison street stage line has withdrawn its omnibusses, and the Wabash avenue lines are running very short. Still there are plenty of cars on the South Side lines, but some of the West Side lines have withdrawn a number of cars. To-night very few cars are running at all. There is no doubt, however, but that many horses are kept in the stables which might be used, but humanitarian and prudential motives dictate their withdrawal from service. There is really as yet but little if any obstruction of business, though the stoppage of a portion of the public conveyances causes some inconvenience.

BALTIMORE.

BALTIMORE, November 1.—The horse disease prevails throughout the city and vicinity. A number of cars have been withdrawn from various lines, and there are comparatively few hacks on the stands. Business is beginning to suffer for the want of conveyance of freights. The disease prevails in the mildest form.

PHILADELPHIA.

PHILADELPHIA, November 1.—The plague has broken out among the racing horses. The race for fifteen hundred dollars, which was to have come off yesterday afternoon at Suffolk Park, was postponed, as the horses are suffering with the disease. The horses entered were Sensation, W. S. Allen and Hotspur.

OIL CITY.

OIL CITY, November 1—11:20 A. M.—It is estimated that there are over one hundred cases of horse distemper here this morning.

POUGHKEEPSIE.

POUGHKEEPSIE, October 1.—The horse disease is spreading rapidly in this vicinity, and has made its appearance in Kingston.

THE CAPITAL.

Redemption of Three Per Cents—Why the Greenback Reserve Was Used—German Emigration Not Interfered with by the German Government—Weather Probabilities—Collecting the Discriminating Duty on Goods Imported in French Vessels—Opposition to a Dyke Across the Bay of Superior—Cabinet Officers and Heads of Bureaus Going Home to Vote.

WASHINGTON, November 1, 1872.

REDEMPTION OF THREE PER CENTS.

The Secretary of the Treasury authorizes the redemption of $1,250,000 three per cent. bonds, as follows: Five thousand each, number 4,792 to 5,177 inclusive, and in ten thousands from number 477 to 480 inclusive, dated October 16, 1868, and November 7, 1868. The interest will cease December 31, 1872.

COLLECTING THE DISCRIMINATING DUTY.

In accordance with the President's recent proclamation with reference to discriminating duties, the Collectors of Customs are instructed by the Secretary of the Treasury to assess and collect from and after the date of the proclamation, namely, October 30th, a discriminating duty of ten per centum ad valorem upon all merchandise imported into their respective districts in French vessels from countries other than France. The discriminating duty does not apply to Swiss goods imported in French vessels, Switzerland having no shipping port of her own, and goods designed for the United States by way of Havre are considered as exported within the meaning of the law when they pass the frontier boundary between France and Switzerland.

DYKE ACROSS THE BAY OF SUPERIOR.

The State of Wisconsin to-day, by her counsel, Enoch Totten, of this city, asked and obtained leave to file an original bill in the Supreme Court of the United States against the city of Duluth and the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, praying for an injunction restraining the defendants from completing the dyke across the Bay of Superior, between Superior City and Duluth, which cuts off the people of Wisconsin from the free navigation of the waters of that bay and of the St. Louis river.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

For the lower lakes, New England and Middle States, clearing weather and north-westerly winds; in the South Atlantic States, light, variable winds, chiefly north easterly, with generally clear weather; in the Gulf States, north-easterly winds and cloudy weather, with possibly light rain; on the upper lakes, and thence to the Ohio and Mississippi valleys, southerly winds, cloudy weather, and occasional light rain; for the north-west and thence to Arkansas, north-westerly winds and partly cloudy, but clearing, weather. The Ohio river will rise below Louisville.

GERMAN EMIGRATION NOT INTERFERED WITH.

The information received by the Department of State that the statement published in various newspapers in this country, in July last, that the German Government was seeking to prevent emigration to the United States, and had adopted stringent measures for that purpose, is denied by that Government, which disclaims having issued orders interfering with or forbidding emigration of its citizens to this country.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

—Six business houses in Plattsburg, Clinton county, Missouri, were burned on the 28th ult.

—Twenty thousand dollars' worth of lumber was burned at East Saginaw, Mich., on Wednesday night.

—The steamship Europe has arrived at Moville, Cuba and Siberia at Queenstown, and Arragon at New York.

—Chief of Police McWilliams, of Jersey City, was yesterday morning bailed in the sum of twenty-one thousand dollars.

—Howard Brownell, Private Secretary of Admiral Farragut at the battle in Mobile Bay, died at East Hartford, Conn., on Thursday.

—The Albert S. Evans who was reported as lost on the Missouri, was formerly the agent of the Associated Press at San Francisco.

—About three o'clock yesterday morning the St. James Hotel at Rockaway, L. I., was totally burned. The fire spread so rapidly that the occupants barely escaped. Loss, $100,000.

—Information received from Puerto Plata announces that a successful landing has been made on the Cuban coast of a small quantity of arms and a good supply of powder and lead. The expedition sailed from that port.

—Another inmate of Ward's Island Insane Asylum, Louis O. Samuels, died on Tuesday from alleged violence at the hands of one of the keepers, named McConnell. The victim had been put in a cold bath, and brutally kicked in the stomach and elsewhere.

—Colonel Andrew J. Kellar, independent candidate for Congress in the Memphis Tennessee district, has withdrawn, leaving the race between Barbour Lewis, Republican, and London C. Haynes, Democrat. Johnson's men and the Republicans have put full Legislative tickets in the field.

—At Emerald, Ohio, on Thursday afternoon, about 2 o'clock, a horrible murder was perpetrated. A man named Nathaniel McCowan and one William Richardson, both drunk, got to quarreling, when McCowan knocked Richardson down and beat him to death. McCowan is now in jail.

—At Arcanum, Ohio, John Sharp, aged eighteen years, Thursday afternoon while driving a team drawing a load of wood, fell from the wagon. The team became frightened, and kicked him after he fell to the ground, and the wagon passed over his breast, crushing it and killing him instantly.

—Hon. Columbus Delano, Secretary of the Interior, and party, arrived in St. Joseph, Mo., last evening, and were met at the depot by a committee of prominent citizens, and amid the booming of cannon and blazing of bon fires were escorted to the Academy of Music, where Mr. Delano delivered a speech of two hours' length, in which he discussed all the leading issues of the contest. Speeches were also made by Hon. R. W. Turner, Governor elect of Nebraska, R. C. Kirk, ex-Lieutenant Governor of Ohio, R. T. Evansboro, of Kansas city, and others.

—A horrible shooting affair took place about one mile north of Frost's Station, near Xenia, Ohio, on Wednesday evening, which will probably result in the death of Wm. Fogwell, an estimable young man of that vicinity. Wm. Fogwell and Wm. B. Ritchison are two young men and neighboring farmers. Ritchison has an exceedingly bad reputation. He has on several occasions had petty quarrels with Fogwell, and the two were engaged in a lawsuit as late as Saturday last. Fogwell went to Dayton yesterday with a load of cider, and was returning about eight o'clock in the evening, when he was fired upon by Ritchison, who was lying in wait for him by the roadside. Fogwell is reported dead and the murderer arrested.

NEW YORK.

The Jury in Mayor Hall's Case Unable to Agree—Oakey Disappointed—Steamer Missouri's Half Price Passengers—Injunctions Against Telegraph Lines—Comparative Cotton Statement—New Steamship Line—Funeral of Mrs. Greeley.

NEW YORK, November 1, 1872.

MAYOR HALL'S CASE.

The jury in the Hall trial disagreed and were discharged. One report says they stood seven for conviction and five for acquittal.

After the discharge of the jury the court adjourned until November 18th, when the prosecution will ask for the trial of Tweed. Mayor Hall remarked, on leaving court, that the result of his trial was the greatest disappointment he had experienced in forty-six years.

NEW STEAMSHIP LINE.

At a banquet on board of the pioneer steamer Glamorgan, of the new South Wales and Atlantic Steamship Company, toasts were given to the President of the United States and the Queen of Great Britain, and success to the South Wales Steamship Company. The latter was responded to by Archibald Baxter, agent of the line, who, in his remarks, said the great advantage of the line was close connection with the great railroads on both sides. They now had on board seal skins shipped from Alaska via San Francisco, and they would deliver in London without a cent for cartage.

Archibald, the British Consul, proposed "The trade of New York and her commercial prosperity." He believed this city was destined to become the commercial centre of the world.

GOING HOME TO VOTE.

Most of the Cabinet officers and heads of Bureaus in the executive departments will go to their respective States to vote for President. Secretary Belknap and Secretary Delano left to-day. Secretary Fish and Judge Richardson, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, leave to-morrow. Postmaster General Cresswell will remain in Washington, Secretary Robeson in New Jersey, and Secretary Boutwell in Massachusetts until after the election. Owing to the great distance, Attorney General Williams did not go to his home in Oregon to vote.

INJUNCTIONS AGAINST TELEGRAPH LINES.

It is reported that the Western Union Telegraph Company have applied for an injunction restraining the working of all opposition lines in the United States, claiming that the operation of such lines under the present system is in violation of the Page patent, improvements of which are claimed to be included in the Morse system. The Western Union and the opposition lines to-day advanced their rates from this city to New Haven, Hartford, Bridgeport and Philadelphia five cents per ten-word message.

THE MISSOURI'S HALF PRICE PASSENGERS.

In the list of passengers lost by the steamship Missouri are mentioned five servants of Mr. Cleveland. The company allowed them to go under that designation at half price. One of them was Dr. Babcock, of this city; another was Col. Cecil Cleveland, of Buffalo, who served in the war under General Banks; another was Jos. Throckmorton, a clerk of Philadelphia, and the fifth was a woman named Mary Blank, of Oneida county, who was going to Nassau as housekeeper.

WHY THE GREENBACK RESERVE WAS USED.

Acting Secretary Richardson says that the use of the four million greenback reserve was caused chiefly by the rapid redemption of three per cent. certificates during the last few months, of which there has been called in about forty millions, leaving only about five millions yet outstanding. It is the intention of the Secretary to reduce within the next two weeks the currency to the lowest limits authorized by law viz.: $356,000,000, and this will, of course, necessitate the restoration of the 4,000,000 of greenbacks issued last month to the reserve fund.

FUNERAL OF MRS. GREELEY.

The funeral of Mrs. Greeley took place to-day from Dr. Chapin's church. The plate on the coffin bore the inscription, "Mary Y. C. Greeley." The services were simple, and were read by Dr. Chapin, who delivered a short address on the virtues of the deceased and her constancy under her sufferings. The remains were taken to Greenwood Cemetery for interment. The chief mourners were Mr. Greeley and his two daughters. The funeral was very largely attended.

AMENDING THE CONSTITUTION.

Charles O'Conor, Wm. M. Evarts, Joshua M. Vancott, John E. Parsons and others unite in a card advising their fellow-citizens to vote for the amendment to the Constitution extending the term of office of the Commissioners of Appeals for two years. The adoption of the amendment, they believe, would prevent ruinous delays of justice.

RUFFIANLY ASSAULT.

John Radly, a drunken rough, kicked Mrs. McTierney this morning in a grocery on Cherry street, causing fatal injuries. Her son, in defending his mother, was fatally stabbed with a butcher knife.

THE MAYORALTY.

A meeting of merchants in favor of the election of Havemeyer for Mayor was held to-day on the corner of Wall and Broad streets. Speeches were made in advocacy of Havemeyer's claim by Hon. Wm. M. Evarts and others.

PREPARING FOR ELECTION.

Marshal Sharpe has decided to appoint additional special deputies for service on election day in those districts where trouble is apprehended.

UNVEILING THE SCOTT MONUMENT.

The Scott monument will be unveiled to-morrow. William Cullen Bryant and others will deliver addresses.

CINCINNATI.

Preparing for the Grand Musical Festival.

CINCINNATI, November 1.—The Executive Committee of the grand musical festival, to be held in the first week of next May, has to-day issued to the choral societies of America an address, inviting them, one and all, to take part in it. It states that the object of this festival is to elevate and strengthen the standard of choral and instrumental music, and secure harmony of action between the various musical organizations of the country, especially those of the West; and it sets forth that the fact that Theodore Thomas has accepted the office of musical director assures the attainment of these objects. It states that the programme planned by Mr. Thomas, comprises some of the best works of Handle, Mozart, Beethoven, Wagner, Schuman, and other masters. Beethoven's ninth symphony will be performed by a select chorus. It announces that it will consist of six performances, commencing on Monday, May 6, and ending on Friday, May 9th, that Saturday, May 10, will be devoted to a grand open air concert, and that on Thursday, May 9th, there will be a contest for valuable prizes between the male choral societies. Dr. C. C. Miller, official agent at Cincinnati, will furnish details to all societies wishing to co-operate.

TITUSVILLE.

Another Combination to Keep Up the Price of Oil.

TITUSVILLE, PA., November 1.—The bankers of the oil regions have held two meetings relative to a plan recently adopted by a convention of producers to control the market for crude oil. The plan consists of the formation of an agency, with a capital stock of one million dollars, through which the entire production is to be bought and sold, with ample storage and heavy capital, and restraining the production when necessary. It is believed the price can be maintained at five dollars per barrel. The bankers offer support and willingness to co-operate, and at the last meeting carried by a unanimous vote resolutions expressing confidence in the scheme.

The morning papers of this city severely critize the movement, and the producers are somewhat divided in their opinions, and its success is as yet uncertain.

PHILADELPHIA.

Guilty of Manslaughter.

PHILADELPHIA, November 1.—The jury in the case of James Kane for murder of James Dougherty, a former companion of Hugh Mara, rendered a verdict of "guilty of manslaughter." The same verdict was rendered in the case of Henry Schoeffer, charged with the murder of Francis A. Myers.

CONNECTICUT.

Mrs. Vincent Collyer Drowned.

DARIEN, November 1.—The wife of Vincent Collyer was suddenly drowned yesterday while driving over the stream crossing the road to the island, where they resided. She was returning alone, after having accompanied her husband to the cars.

BROWNSVILLE.

Terrible Accident in a Coal Mine—One Man Killed—Another Seriously Injured.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BROWNSVILLE, PA., October 31, 1872.

A terrible accident occurred in Crawford's coal mine, Bridgeport, Wednesday, October 30, resulting in the death of Isaac Duvall and the severe injury of Andrew Peyton, both colored men. Mr. Duvall lived about an hour after the accident, although he was literally crushed to pieces. He was a quiet, industrious man and respected by all who knew him. His horrible and untimely death will be deeply regretted by a large circle of friends and acquaintances. He leaves a wife and three children.

The accident was caused by the falling of a large section of coal. R.

—Governor Noyes, of Ohio, has issued his proclamation for the observance of Thursday, November 28th, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer. The document earnestly counsels all citizens of Ohio upon that day to rest from their ordinary avocations, and in their houses of worship and quiet homes acknowledge their obligations to the Creator, and remember the duties of kindness and generosity and brotherly love which they owe to their fellowmen.

THE OLD WORLD.

The Alabama Claims Settlement Considered the Grandest Triumph of Modern Civilization—The Inundation in Italy Spreading—People Starving on House-tops and Trees—The Pope Determined to Defend the Cause of the Church in Switzerland—The Prussian Diet Prorogued—Epernay Evacuated by the German Troops—General Conference of Jews in Brussels.

ITALY.

THE INUNDATION SPREADING.

TURIN, November 1.—The river Po continues to rise, and the inundation is spreading. Families are flying, and those who cannot escape are starving on house tops and in trees, where they have taken refuge. The streams are filled with carcasses of cattle and wrecks of houses and barns. The town of Reggio, fourteen miles from Madina, has almost entirely disappeared beneath the flood.

THE CAUSE OF THE CHURCH TO BE DEFENDED.

ROME, November 1.—The Pope has resolved to defend the cause of the Church against the decree of the Swiss Government, forbidding the exercise of Episcopal functions within Swiss territory by the recently appointed Bishop Mermillod.

GREAT BRITAIN.

GRANDEST TRIUMPH OF MODERN CIVILIZATION.

LONDON, November 1.—W. E. Baxter, member of Parliament for Montrose, addressed his constituents last night. He said the result of the Geneva Arbitration was the grandest triumph of modern civilization. The award was just, and the decision was calculated to make nations careful, while it was eminently serviceable for the protection of English shipping and commerce in time of war. He praised D'Israeli for his forbearance and discretion during the arbitration.

FIRE.

Music Hall, Oxford, was burned last night.

BELGIUM.

GENERAL CONFERENCE OF JEWS.

BRUSSELS, November 1.—A general conference of Jews is in session in this city. The delegates from Roumania have laid before it the condition of their people in the principal cities. They propose to petition the Roumanian Chamber for full civil and political rights, and state that their intention of emigrating en masse to America has been abandoned.

FRANCE.

THE PRESIDENCY.

PARIS, November 1.—The Secretary General, Barthelemy St. Hilaire, in reply to numerous correspondents, states that Thiers does not desire to be made President for life.

GERMAN EVACUATION.

The German troops have evacuated Epernay.

SPAIN.

VICE PRESIDENT OF CONGRESS.

MADRID, November 1.—Llosenlura, a member of the Radical party, has been elected Vice President of Congress, lower branch, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Saheneron. The vote was 142 against 118.

GERMANY.

THE PRUSSIAN DIET PROROGUED.

BERLIN, November 1.—General Von Roon, Minister of War, to-day read before the Chambers a message from the King of Prussia proroguing the diet.

BY MAIL.

We glean the following from the Cincinnati Commercial and Gazette: Business was active on the landing yesterday, all the departing steamers going out with good trips.... The river rose more than two feet in twenty-four hours, with eight feet of water here last evening. Kanawha is falling, with four feet of water yesterday.... The Exchange left for Pittsburgh last evening with a moderate trip. Andy Burtin was one of her pilots.... The Albion, with nine barges coal, and the Penn Wright, with three barges coal, arrived yesterday.... The packet Andes, from Pittsburgh to Cincinnati, and the Arlington from Cincinnati to Pittsburgh, passed Pomeroy on Thursday.... The Charles McDonald, John Gilmore, Keystone, and Greyhound, with large tows of coal from Pittsburgh, passed Gallipolis on Thursday night.... The Iron Mountain leaves St. Louis for Pittsburgh, to-morrow, with a tow of iron ore. James Montague will be one of her pilots.... The tow boat Abe McDonald, coming down with a tow of Pittsburgh coal, broke a cylinder at Wheeling.... The largest and most eventful run of coal ever known is now being made. The advance tow (the Whale) arrived yesterday, followed by several others. So far, not a loss of the precious lumps has been sustained by accident that we have heard of. The fleet occupied three days in getting out from Pittsburgh.... Rates by boat and by barges to New Orleans about the same, and may be quoted as follows on prominent articles of shipment: Whisky, $1.50 per barrel; pork $1.40 per barrel; bacon, 50c per cwt.; other heavy pound freight, from 55c per cwt. up.... It is reported here that Steve Moore and Lucius Morgan were killed, Tuesday, at Aberdeen, Mississippi, by Captain Bill Forest, Henry Cozart and another man. Reports are conflicting as to the origin of the difficulty. Forrest escaped, but the others were captured.... The steamer Julia struck a snag in Bird's Bend, Wednesday night, and broke sixty timbers. She is here, leaking badly, but her freight is not damaged.... Captain Batchelor has so far recovered from his recent illness as to be able to take his place on the roof.... Water was let into the old canal at Louisville yesterday, and boats were passing through.

A REMARKABLE SUICIDE.

A Deliberate and Determined Act of Self-Destruction—The Victim Leaves Two Letters, Giving Instructions to the Coroner and Apologizing to his Host.

Yesterday afternoon there was committed in this city one of the most remarkable suicides that we have ever recorded. William Marshall, the victim of self-destruction, was a pilot, and resided at Wheeling, West Va. On last Saturday he came to the National Hotel, kept by Mr. Mackey, on Water street, near Smithfield, and remained during the day. He then paid his bill and went away. Yesterday morning he returned to the hotel and about four o'clock yesterday afternoon he was found in his room in an insensible condition from the effects of an over dose of laudanum. An hour afterwards he died. What was most singular about the case was the two letters he had written previous to taking the poison. They were written with a lead pencil and enclosed in buff envelopes, which were stamped. On one envelope was written, "For the Coroner," and the letter read as follows:

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 31, 1872—10 A. M.

MESSRS. CORONER AND JURY. Gentlemen:—As I am satisfied I can do no more good for myself nor any one else, I am determined to take my exit from this world, and in order to assist you in your finding a correct verdict I will say I have taken laudanum.

I am yours respectfully,

WM. MARSHALL,
of Wheeling, W. Va.

P. S.—Mr. Coroner, if you will have the goodness to mail the letters I left in this room you will confer a great favor.

WM. MARSHALL.

The other letter was directed with ink to "The Proprietor of the National Hotel, Pittsburgh, Pa.," and contained the following:

PITTSBURGH, October 31, 1872—4 P. M.

MR. MACKEY—Dear Sir:—I am sorry to put you to so much inconvenience, but my circumstances are so that I can't well resist the fatal act I am about to commit, as horrible as it is to contemplate self-destruction. I am deliberate and determined. I have taken laudanum. I hope the Lord will have mercy on my soul.

WM. MARSHALL.

At half-past eight o'clock last evening Coroner West held an inquest upon the remains, and with the conclusive evidence the jury was not long in bringing in a verdict in accordance with the above facts. The deceased was a single man and fifty-five years of age. He is said to have been very sober and industrious.

In all the Coroner's experience he says that he has never met with a case similar to this—where such cool deliberation was evident. It is said that the deceased spent fully two hours in his room preparing all the letters, as he was noticed by other occupants of the house, who saw him through the window. The other letters which he had written were to his friends in Wheeling, and were taken charge of by the Coroner, as the deceased requested.

HORRIBLE DEATH.

A Terrible Runaway—Man Torn to Pieces—Portions of the Remains Scattered Along the Road For Two Miles.

A runaway accident, of a fearful character, occurred in Allegheny, yesterday—the details of which are sickening to read. The matter was first discovered by officer H. Miller, of the police force, who was returning to the city along the Perrysville Road, in a wagon, with a prisoner in charge, when he observed a pair of horses attached to a lumber wagon, coming toward him. The officer drove his buggy directly across the road, and as the frantic team neared the spot he succeeded in checking the animals. There was no person in charge of the runaway team, apparently, but on close inspection, officer Miller was horrified by the sight of a portion of a man's body entangled in the double-tree and the front running gear of the wagon. The sight was sickening in the extreme. Pieces of the body was ground into the hind hoofs of the horses; other portions adhered to the wheels, and the lumber on the wagon was bespattered with blood. The roadway was marked with pieces of clothing, pieces of flesh and lumps of hair. Papers and other effects from the pockets of the deceased were picked up some distance back on the road, from which it appeared that the victim was John S. Miller, a farmer residing in Brownsdale Allegheny county. A receipted bill for lumber purchased of Mr. James McBrier, of Allegheny, was found in his pocket. The exact point at which the horses started to run, or what frightened them, of course is not known; but it is supposed they ran at least three miles, as the toll-keeper says that they passed through the toll-gate under such headway that he could not see anything of the unfortunate man on the wagon. Portions of the body were scattered along the road for a couple of miles, and it is supposed that the man in falling caught in the swiggle tree, and had his brains beaten out by the heels of the frightened horses, while his body was torn and mangled by coming in contact with the ground.

The remains were all gathered up and taken into Mahana's tavern, after which a messenger was sent and to notify the deceased's friends. An Inquest was held on the remains. During the afternoon when a verdict of accidental death was rendered. Deceased was about 45 years of age and unmarried.

LOGE RUN.

The New Oil Territory—A Change in the Excitement—The Wells Pumping.

Loge Run is now one of the chief points of attraction for oil operators. Two wells recently put forth a good show of oil, and the result is that crowds are flocking to that point. The first of them is the Sands well which is estimated at 240 barrels per day. The well is about two miles south-east of Oil City. It struck the first sand at 979 feet, penetrated it about five feet, and is consequently 984 feet deep. There was a tremendous flow of gas from the start, which, though it has fallen off greatly, is yet heavy. The production the first day or two was estimated at from 500 to 1,000 barrels.

The Green well, about which so much has been said the last day or two, is twenty-eight rods south of the Sands' well. It is owned by Mead & Green and situated on the Newkirk and Mead farm. The well is 1,050 feet deep, and is twenty-two feet in a handsome open grey sand rock. Experienced operators claim it to a good twenty barrel well and many claim that it will reach double that amount. As it locates the territory in a new direction it opens a large valuable field for operation. These "strikes" have occasioned great excitement and Sage Run now looms up as the rich oil territory.

POLICE PARAGRAPHS.

Brief Mention of Criminalities.

JACOB SAWYER yesterday made an information before Alderman Strain, charging Alexander McWhorter, one of Mayor Callows' Police force with assault and battery. The prosecutor keeps an eating house in the Allegheny Diamond, alleges that the defendant used unnecessary violence in arresting him. A warrant was issued.

THOMAS MALEY charged James Cocoran before Alderman Strain, with assault and battery in forcibly ejecting him from defendants house, and causing him to fall upon the curb, inflicting a severe cut in his face. As it appeared at the hearing that the prosecutor had been acting in a disorderly manner in the house, and no unnecessary force had not been used. The case was dismissed.

PATRICK QUINN lodged an information Thursday before Alderman Strain, charging John O'Donnell with assault and battery. The accused, who is the prosecutor in two cases against Quinn, is charged with having followed the defendant to his boarding house, and striking him on the neck. As Quinn turned around the defendant, it is alleged, struck him in the eye. A warrant was issued.

Evans' Department Store is the place—Albums, Satchels, Vases, Toilet Setts, Work Boxes, Desks, fine Table and Pocket Cutlery, Silver Plated Ware, &c., at No. 59 Fifth avenue.

BY Divine permission Rev. T. H. Colhouer, will preach in the "Wood Mission Sunday school room," in the South Hall of the Eleventh ward school house, on to-morrow evening at 7½ o'clock. The public are most respectfully invited.

REV. SAMUEL ROBINSON, of County Derry, Ireland, will preach in the Third U. P. Church, Diamond street, to-morrow (Sabbath) at 10½ A. M. and 7½ P. M. This gentleman is spoken of as a very distinguished preacher and a fine pulpit orator.

CENTRAL U. P. CHURCH, corner South Diamond and Sandusky street, Allegheny City. Preaching to-morrow, November 3, at 10½ A. M. and 7 P. M. by Rev. Samuel Patterson, of Darlington, Pa. Sabbath School meets, as usual, at a quarter before 3 P. M.

THE Sharpsburg Presbyterian Church, Rev. Thomas Lawrence, pastor, has just undergone extensive repairs. The roof has been slated. The audience chamber has been beautifully frescoed and carpeted anew, and a new and tasteful pulpit has taken the place of the old one.

THE installation of Rev. Wm. M. Robinson as pastor of the Providence Church, Allegheny, will take place next Sabbath evening (Nov. 2d), services commencing at seven o'clock. In these services Dr. Swift has been appointed to preside, &c., Dr. Hornblower to preach, Dr. Hodge to deliver the charge to the pastor, and Rev. W. P. Moore the charge to the people.

ON Sabbath, the 20th inst., eleven persons were received into the Pine Creek church, of which Rev. S. M. Potter is pastor—six by profession and five by letter. At a communion a few months ago seven others were admitted to this branch of the church. There has been during the past summer, a Bible school in connection with this congregation, of some one hundred and eighty members.

STILL AHEAD.

The Boston Square Dealing House Leading the Van—Some of the Great Attractions Which They Offer.

The energetic and enterprising manager of the Boston One Price Clothing House, Mr. Rossiter, is is determined to keep his establishment in the van of all other houses in the city for good and cheap goods. He proposes to do this by offering articles, not of shoddy manufacture, but well made garments of good material, at prices which cannot be approached for cheapness by any other establishment. His record in the past shows that he can do this, for his facilities are of such a character that he has an advantage over all rivals. His trade has been increasing ever since the store on Smithfield street was opened until he was compelled to open a branch establishment at No. 178 Federal street, Allegheny. Could there be any stronger evidence of the fact that he can and does do all he promises and that his establishment is in every way reliable. This is a point, however, upon which our readers, can best satisfy themselves by a visit. We advise gentlemen then to look at some of the prices advertised elsewhere, and then visit 95 Smithfield street, or 178 Federal street, and see if the goods are not marvels of cheapness and of the best quality.

Horse Stolen.

Last evening Mr. Peter Bloom, of Bloomfield, desiring to participate in the torchlight procession, had his horse brought out in front of his tavern, and tied to the hitching post. Mr. Bloom was all ready to mount, when he returned a moment to the house, upon coming back he missed the animal; it had been stolen. The police are looking after it.

PATENT

REFLECTOR GRATE AND STOVE.

This Stove is simply a portable Grate, where the chimney will not admit the regular grate. Where the chimney is sufficiently large the grate can be set into the jamb in the usual way. The advantages claimed for this invention are as follows:

First—As a radiator of heat, it has double the intensity.
Second—It is unquestionably the most cleanly—no soot or ashes escaping into the room which, in the ordinary grate, proves so detrimental to carpets and furniture.
Third—The combustion is perfect. There is no waste in unburnt cinders—every ounce of the fuel is so completely consumed, that nothing remains but the finest ashes.
Fourth—As an economizer of fuel—there being an actual saving of at least 25 per cent.
Fifth—It is highly ornamental.
Sixth—It is set so deep in the chimney, that it is much safer, and also less liable to puff in windy weather.
Seventh—A slight motion of the shaker cleanses the entire fire, and causes it to burn with great brilliancy and intensity of heat.

Read the following testimonials which speak for themselves.

MESSRS. L. H. SMITH & CO.—Gentlemen:—We have used your Stove or "Portable Grate," and it affords us pleasure to state that it is more than you represent it to be. It makes a good heat, great saving in coal, free from dust and dirt, and keeps the room in which they are used, very pure.

JUDGING from the excitability of the Spanish people, we regard the impeachment and trial of the Sagosta Ministry as promising not only a rich revelation of the corrupt side of affairs, but a possible revolution. Still the impeachment of prominent officials goes so far in advance of the old style of doing things, that it may be the idea of a gradual revolution in popular sentiment is among the possibilities.

HON. WM. M. EVARTS, who arrived in New York from Europe, where he has been in attendance on the Geneva tribunal for the past five months, on Wednesday last, made a brief speech the same evening to a Grant and Wilson meeting at the Cooper Institute. He said the belief in Europe among the wise and just public men of all nations, was that General Grant would be and should be re-elected. It would be accepted as a new evidence of the wisdom of our people and the protection Providence vouchsafes the nation.

IT is surprising what a hold this country has on the affections of the masses throughout Europe. It seems increasingly probable that unless the governmental institutions of the old world shall, in some measure be liberalized, we shall draw seriously on their population. Even now there is a proposition pending before the Commissioner of Lands at Washington, for the location here of forty thousand Roumanian Jews. A company, with a paid-up capital of one and a half million of dollars, proposes to bear the expense of exportation, if our Government will furnish homesteads for all on the public lands. It is a very significant movement.

MUNICIPAL RULE in Russia, after the emancipation of the serfs, is the most important progressive measure initiated by the Emperor, who seems disposed to liberalize the institutions of the nation as fast as the people are able to appreciate reforms. We learn by the last foreign mail that the first election in the empire for the offices of Mayor, Municipal Councillors, etc., have resulted in placing noblemen in the mayorality in only forty-six out of 125 towns. In ten towns the nobility form the majority of the council, but in thirteen no noble has been elected to any office. The new law is based on the principle of giving votes to those who pay the local taxes.

A RECENT STATEMENT from the Austrian war office, of the various European armies, shows that the war-footing of the French army is 600,000 men; its present strength, 295,000, and its length of service from four to five years. Germany, with 687,086 in war, and 284,110 in peace, exacts three years' actual service. Russia, with a war-force of 873,443, and 514,576 in peace, requires eight years. Italy, with a war-effective of 271,000, and a peace-footing of 125,000 men, exacts from three to five years' service, and Austria with 580,000 as her war-strength, and 141,691 in peace, exacts only two years—which, the Minister of war contends is too short a period for drilling a clog into into a disciplined soldier.

THE VACANCY in the Philadelphia Post-office, and the manner of filling it, creates some discussion in that city. A number of candidates are already in the field, and those supposed to have influence with the appointing power are besieged by requests for their kind offices. It is stated, and we hope the report will prove correct, that the office will be filled under the rules suggested by the Civil Service Board, and approved by the President, by a selection from the present clerical force in the post-office. The ninth of the civil service rules declares that:

When a vacancy occurs in the office of Postmaster, in cities having, according to the census of 1870, a population of 20,000 or more, the Postmaster General shall ascertain if any of the subordinates in such office are suitable persons, qualified to discharge efficiently the duties of postmaster; and if such are found, he shall certify to the President the name and names of those subordinates, not exceeding three in number, who in his judgment are best qualified for the position, from which list the President will make the nomination to fill the vacancy. But if no such subordinate be found so qualified, or if the nomination be not confirmed by the Senate, the nomination will be made at the discretion of the President.

We don't suppose this will prove particularly acceptable to the politicians outside the postoffice who are manoeuvering for the place, but the application of the rule will be hailed by the people at large with great satisfaction, as an important move in the direction of civil service reform.

BUCKALEW NOT FOR GREELEY.

Mr. Charles R. Buckalew, late Democratic candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania, it was announced by telegraph from one end of the Union to the other, would make a speech at Jersey City on Wednesday night last, to a Greeley meeting. Mr. Buckalew did make his speech at the time stated, but avoided all reference to the Presidential candidates almost as carefully as he did in his Pennsylvania canvass. The major portion of his argument was devoted to his favorite theory of minority representation, arguing that it would be much better if it prevailed in the choice of Presidential electors, so that the Democrats could get four out of the nine to which New Jersey is entitled in the electoral college. He did not seem to have any faith that the State would go for Greeley, and so would gladly accept a half loaf as a compromise. Mr. Buckalew made a passing and very brief allusion to Greeley and Brown as the "noble candidates" of the Cincinnati and Baltimore Conventions, in no wise committing himself to their support, and that was all he said directly bearing on the Presidential candidates. We do not wonder at his coldness towards the Liberal movement, so called. It only brought him disaster, and a more overwhelming defeat than has befallen any gubernatorial candidate in this State in fifty years. The support of Curtin, McClure, Forney, Marshall, and Moorhead, Mr. Buckalew appreciates was a positive injury. It cut down his vote 4,079 votes less than the number received by Mr. Boyle when running as a regular candidate of the Democracy, four years ago, against General Hartranft, for Auditor General. There is a certain dignity and self appreciation about this ignoring of the coalition candidates by Mr. Buckalew, that commands our respect. Whatever others may do, he will not throw up his cap for the engineers of his own defeat. When asked to talk for Greeley during his late canvass, he stated he only proposed to discuss State politics. Now that he has no longer that excuse, when brought face to face with a Greeley audience in an adjoining State, he tells his hearers what he knows about minority representation, a question as foreign to the pending Presidential issue as the infallibility of the Pope. We believe Mr. Buckalew is one of the large class of Democrats in Pennsylvania who will find it inconvenient to go to the polls next Tuesday.

END OF THE CANVASS.

With to-day, the rhetorical efforts of the rival parties, whose candidates are before the people for their suffrages, will be ended. The remainder of the time will be chiefly devoted to perfecting those practical details, which are of so much service on election day. A few closing words to our readers are, therefore, eminently in order. Since the October elections, there has been comparatively little occasion for heated remark, as the general result was understood to be decided. No one, possessed of political acuteness, now entertains the slightest doubt that President Grant will be re-elected. Yet, despite all this, there are reasons why every honest ballot that can be cast in his favor should be:

1. We think he is eminently the best adapted, of the two candidates, to fill the office. He has been tried, and his qualities are understood. Mr. Greeley is untried, and is known to be so visionary on many points, that he is entirely unfitted for an office of such delicacy and responsibility. He totally lacks in executive ability; his forte is newspaper editing,—or in governmental life, he is best adapted to a position in Congress. As President, he would be eminently unfortunate.

2. The election of President Grant will thoroughly subdue all hope of the revival of the ex-rebel doctrines. Say what they may, it is incontestable that the rebel element of the country looked forward to the election of Mr. Greeley as promising them special advantages. It is the last time they can indulge such hopes. Four years will have swept us so far forward, that all interest in questions associated with the rebellion will be past. No party will presume four years hence, to nominate a candidate for the Presidency who ever favored secession, or in any way contributed to its success.

3. President Grant's election will maintain secure the finances of the country. On the contrary, Mr. Greeley's election, if he follows out his previously expressed views, will thoroughly unsettle our finances. The mere fact of his election, with an interest so sensitive as money, will go far to give serious trouble to the country. We believe that the great majority of our business men who find prosperity in the regularity and steadiness of business, would regard it as a serious injury to have Mr. Greeley elected.

4. President Grant should have a noble majority. If the vote in this State is fully out, we are confident that his majority will surprise the people on every hand. We are so confident that a large number of Democrats join us in wishing his success, that we even hope for their votes to express their wishes. That there are Republicans opposed to it, we do not believe, except in a very few instances. It was rumored that there was a general defection against Hartranft, but the vote showed the rumor to be fallacious. It is not even rumored that President Grant has many enemies in the Republican ranks.

5. In order to such success as should be achieved, effective work must be done. We do not say work of convincement, of reasoning, or appeal. No need of that. The people need only be drawn out. To prepare for this is now the great duty. Block committees have their work, and those who keep tally lists theirs, and those who go out to look up neglectful voters, theirs. Let all be faithful in their respective spheres, and there is no doubt as to the result.

Finally, every person should be interested. We warn Republicans not to rest, or remain from the polls on election day, because we have a "sure thing." It is perfectly easy to fritter away our splendid majority in October. The Presidential election comes but once in four years, and is the most important held. It is extremely dangerous to neglect our duties regarding it. We hope that every citizen entitled to vote, will be present and express at the ballot his honest preference on Tuesday next. If you are a Democrat, and yet think Grant is better adapted to the Presidency than Greeley, vote for him. At all events do your duty by voting.

THE CURRENCY QUESTION.

It seems, by a Washington dispatch, that while we were urging the reissue of a portion of the greenbacks retired by Mr. McCullough, that which we urged was being actually done. Secretary Boutwell issued about five millions, with a view to relieving the extraordinary stringency then prevailing. The expected result followed, the pressure was broken, and the money market has been growing gradually easier since. We call attention to the circumstances as thoroughly justifying all the views expressed in these columns during the discussion of that subject. We stated that Secretary Boutwell admittedly possessed the power to make such reissue, and that it would require a comparatively small amount to relieve the then prevailing stringency. His action proves the correctness of these points. Should a full issue be made, our other point will, we believe, be made thoroughly good—the ability of the country to absorb it.

It is quite remarkable how much gross ignorance is sometimes displayed on this question. General Garfield, of Ohio, made a financial speech at Cincinnati wherein he stated that an effort was to be made to induce Congress to inflate the currency, and urging his auditors to stand by him in resisting this terrible enormity. The gallant General totally misapprehends the question at issue. No person, so far as we know, ever purposes or desires to seek at the hands of Congress an inflation of the currency,—not even the reissue of the $44,000,000 so frequently referred to. That matter is understood to have so entirely passed the hands of Congress, and so satisfactorily, that no one, so far as we know, seeks to again force it upon that body. It may, of its own accord, take up this phase of the question, but not at the demand of any one else. General Garfield is just as wide of the mark, as to his oratory and his fears, as the old lady who became terribly anxious for herself and friends when told that the world would be destroyed several millions of years hence.

What is urged on this question is, 1. That the Secretary of the Treasury already has, under acts of Congress now existing, all the power desired,—hence Congress will not be perplexed with the subject, so far as certain reissues are concerned. 2. That Congress will be asked to give an elasticity to the national banking system it does not now possess. This involves a totally different class of considerations, although it may include those above referred to. The object of the reissue advocated was, to relieve an existing stringency, and to supply business men with enough currency to meet the wants of a continually expanding business. This may involve the broad discussion of the business wants of the country, the relations of invested wealth, and active capital, to the volume of currency. The design involved in giving increased flexibility to our banking system, was to prevent stringencies, and keep the business of the country on an easy and prosperous basis. The class of considerations bearing on this, embraces the soundness of the system, the maintenance of popular confidence, the prevention of over-issues, the unlocking of certain reserves, provision for contraction when the necessity for expansion is past, the considerations on which expansion shall be allowed, and other cognate questions of this general nature. It will thus be seen that the two things are essentially different.

Inasmuch as the second of these questions cannot be touched till the meeting of Congress, and there is a law bearing on the first, which has both interpretation and precedent in its favor, we have urged that enough of the $44,000,000 referred to be issued to meet existing emergencies. This has been partially complied with. When Congress assembles, and possibly before, we propose to consider the elasticity issue at length. We favor this,—but not without checks and drawbacks. We appreciate the main feature of the existing system as very valuable, and would not have banks less responsible than they now are. Yet we would have them fulfil the mission for which they are established,—to keep safely the monies of depositors, and to accommodate the wants of business men at all times. We believe all this entirely possible, and attainable by very slight legislation. If any arrangement of this kind can be perfected, our national banking system will attain increased popularity; and the business of the country develop in a continually increasing volume. In the midst of so much confusion, we have thought proper to outline the distinctions between the two questions, reserving to a future issue, the discussion of that which will be brought to the attention of Congress,—that of elasticity of the national banks.

GREELEY AS A LEGISLATOR.

[Washington Cor. of the Cincinnati Gazette.]

Mr. Greeley was a member of the House of Representatives for ninety days, or, excluding Sundays, for seventy-eight working days. In that time, although a new member, and filling a short unexpired term, he contrived to make himself exceedingly prominent, or, to use a fitter word, notorious. That modesty which is supposed to best benefit new members, had no charms for him, and his appearance upon the floor averaged something over once a day, beginning on the first business day of the session, and before the President's message was presented, and ending at the night session at which the final adjournment occurred.

He opened with a homestead bill, which failed so utterly that he could not obtain a call of yeas and nays upon it; and he closed with a joint resolution providing, in the name of justice to Christopher Columbus, that the name, "the United States of America," should be changed to Columbia."

Nearly everything he attempted failed, and most propositions he brought forward afforded general amusement, or caused a general row, in which he invariably came off second best. His style of speech must have been a kind of low mumbling, since the Globe reporter in a majority of the instances when he spoke felt obliged to insert a parenthesis stating that Mr. Greeley was scarcely heard at the desk.

From first to last the record is marked with vagaries, contradictions, inconsistencies and ludicrous errors as to what was law. No one can turn it through without having a constant vision of Mr. Pickwick before his eyes.

A statement of what the official record contains, however, is the fairest presentation of the subject; a synopsis of this renders extended comment unnecessary, since it reveals at a glance all the salient points of the Philosopher's career as a legislator and a statesman. The student of this interesting epoch in the history of the republic—to wit: Mr. Greeley's ninety days in Congress—has a great advantage. All that Mr. Greeley did or said or suffered is recorded in one volume of the Congressional Globe—the one for the second session of the Thirtieth Congress.

Lest it may be supposed that Mr. Greeley's troubles were incident to his being a Northern man, and the opposition of Southerners to him as the editor of the Tribune, it is proper to say, in the outset, that nearly all his sorrows came to him through the attacks and criticisms of party associates from the North.

MR. GREELEY'S RESOLUTIONS.

These were seven in number; but only three related to other than routine matters.

The first contemplates the employment of the whole United States navy in transporting American citizens and their effects, at a moderate cost, from the Isthmus of Panama to California. It was a sort of Go-West-by-Sea club, which Mr. Greeley did not succeed in establishing. His failure here may account for his later intensity of devotion to the land route.

The second resolution of interest was one requesting the Secretary of the Treasury to inform the House:

"What consideration of equity or public policy justified the assessment by the tariff of 1846 on woolen blankets, flannels, baizes, etc., and several other descriptions of imported manufactures, of rates of duty five to ten per cent. lower than are charged on the principal raw material from which they are respectively fabricated; and if the same be not justified as aforesaid, what action of Congress in regard thereto is deemed by him desirable."

Upon this quite an amusing debate sprung up. Long John Wentworth considered it in the light of propounding to the Secretary of the Treasury the conundrum: "Why did Congress pass the tariff of 1846?" It was the first instance he had ever known of a member proposing by resolution to ask an Executive officer why Congress had passed such a law. If Mr. Greeley would ask him (Wentworth), or the Chairman of Ways and Means for the Congress that enacted it, both of whom had something to do with passing that tariff, he could get some information.

Mr. Greeley explained that he offered his resolution because he understood that the Secretary of the Treasury was the real author of the law.

Several amendments were offered calling upon eminent citizens for opinions on various subjects, and after some sport of this kind the resolution was tabled.

But Mr. Greeley's crowning work in the resolution line was offered a few hours before his Congressional career closed forever. At 7 o'clock on Saturday evening, the 3d of March, 1849, Mr. Greeley presented the following for the joint action of the two houses. As there was no possibility of any action upon it, beyond exercising the clerk in reading it, his purpose must have been to set it up as a tombstone to mark the end of his Congressional life.

Joint resolution concerning the future appellation or name of our Federal Union.

WHEREAS, Our common country is known among the nations of the earth only as "the United States of America," a designation at once inconveniently cumbrous and palpably indefinite, since the term "United States" is common to other political confederations, even on this continent, and is very likely to be adopted by or applied to others in the course of not many years; and

WHEREAS, That transcendant genius and true hero, by whose lifelong devotion and daring this continent was added to the domain of civilization and Christianity, was treated in his early life with neglect and contumely as a visionary and a charlatan, in his later years with monstrous ingratitude and wrong as a usurper and tyrant, while, by an amazing fatality, mankind have since conspired to perpetuate the injustice of his age by bestowing on the continent so discovered by Columbus the name of a mere follower in his footsteps without a shadow of pretense to the discovery of the New World; therefore

Resolved, That this union of States will hereafter be known and officially designated by the name or appellation Columbia, in grateful acknowledgment of our obligations to and tardy atonement for the injustice hitherto suffered by the great discoverer of this continent.

So ends the Greeley record of statesmanship as embodied in his resolutions.

PETER CARTWRIGHT.

His First Visit to New York—Experience in a Fifth Story Room.

Cartwright's account of his first visit to a great city is peculiarly rich. It was when he went to New York to attend the meeting of the Missionary Board.

After a great deal of trouble and vexation of spirit, he at last drew up in front of the old Irving House on Broadway. We give what followed in his own words:

We made our way to the Irving House, and asked the clerk if two of us could get lodging and board with him for a day or two.

He replied: "Yes, but we are very much crowded."

"Can you give us a lower room, with two beds in it?" I asked, and informed him that I was sick and could not climb many flights of stairs.

He said all the lower rooms were occupied, but he had a nice room in the fifth story—room 555.

I said I could not go up and down so many flights of stairs.

"Oh," said he, "I have the best porters, and if need be they will carry you up and down at all times."

"But," said I, "If they carry me up and retire, if I want to come down, how am I to get the porters to bring me down?"

"Oh," said the clerk, "when you want anything, you have nothing to do but ring the bell, and the porter will be there instantly."

It was now getting dark, and I said, "We are in a poor fix, in a strange city, to hunt other lodgings, and I suppose we must stay.'

"Do," said the clerk, "and in the morning I will give you a lower room."

I said to the porter, "Take us to our room."

Up we started, and winding to every point of the compass, we got at last to the 555th room, and a more filthy, dirty place I never saw for a bedroom in the frontier backwoods of the far West. I said to the porter, "You rascal, are you going to put us in this dirty pig sty?"

"Oh, sir," said the porter, "take your seats, and I'll soon put the room in trim."

And he did trim it very nicely, for it had evidently been the lounging place for the porters. When he had nicely finished the room down he went. I sat a few minutes, and then rang the bell. Up came the porter.

"What's wanting, sir?"

I said, "Send up come fresh water to drink and to wash."

It was quickly brought, and down went the porter. He had hardly reached the lower floor before I again rang the bell. Up came the porter.

"What's wanting, sir?"

"Have you been out of doors?"

"No, sir."

"Is this house on fire, or is any fire near it?"

"No, sir."

By this time the porter was in a free perspiration. My room mate made an excuse for the porter, and said: "Sir, would you murder the poor negro?"

I replied, "He is free and gets good wages, and I am determined to trot him through."

Down went the porter. He had hardly time to reach the lower floor when I rang the bell again.

Up came the porter.

"What's wanting, sir?"

Said I, "Have you any hatchet about this house?"

"No, sir; what do you want with a hatchet?"

"I want to blaze my way down with notches, so that if the house should get on fire I could find my way out."

"Oh, sir, the landlord won't allow that; if the house takes fire you can ring the bell."

"Why," I replied, "if the house takes fire I might ring the bell till the day of judgment. Have you no sealing wax or chalk that I can mark my way down with?"

"I tell you the landlord won't allow that either."

I replied, "I don't care what the landlord allows. If the house takes fire, do you suppose I'll stay here and be burned up like a fool?"

Next morning we paid two dollars each, and left for better quarters.

ILLINOIS.

Prospects of the Republican Party—The Congressional Outlook—Election of the State Ticket Certain—The State Central Committee.

To the Editors of the Pittsburgh Gazette:

PITTSBURGH, PA., October 28, 1872.

Having just returned from Illinois, it may prove of interest to inform you of the political prospects of the Republican party in Illinois, as furnished by gentlemen who are in correspondence with every section of the State, and who, from years of work in the interest of our party, have become enabled to form an accurate estimate of how the tables will turn.

The best basis to work upon will be the Congressional districts. In the Forty-second Congress (the present) Illinois has fourteen representatives, thirteen elected by districts and one at large. In the Forty-third Congress she will have nineteen representatives, a gain of five, all elected by districts. Politically, the delegation to-day stands eight Republicans to six Democrats; the next delegation, according to the figures I shall present, will stand fifteen Republicans to four Democrats. In the elections of 1870 the Republicans in many instances were disaffected; as a consequence, districts which are strongly Republican returned Democratic representatives. For instance, the Fifth, Eighth and Tenth; these are certain to go Republican by increased majorities; the disaffections have been healed, and strong candidates selected to head the ticket. In the First district Hon. J. B. Rice has been nominated. This district is in the city of Chicago, and will elect Mr. Rice by 2,500 to 3,500 majority. Mr. Rice is an influential citizen, and has been Mayor of the city. He is widely known and personally popular. In the Second district J. D. Ward is the Republican nominee. Mr. Ward has been State Senator for some years, and has acquitted himself in a manner to win the esteem and confidence of his party. This district is also in Cook county and part of the city of Chicago. His majority will range from two to three thousand. In the Third district Hon. C. B. Farwell is again nominated for Congress. Mr. Farwell is one of the men that have built themselves up with the city; coming there when a young man, with nothing but his own energy to back him, he has become one of its wealthy men. He has been repeatedly elected Clerk of the county, and was elected to the Forty-first Congress by 5,000 majority; he will be returned by an equally large majority. In the Fourth District General S. A. Hurlburd has been nominated; his opponent is General Farnsworth, a man so unpopular, that in a district where the Republican majority was over 13,000, he was barely returned by 2,350 majority over Mr. Stoughton, temperance candidate, and was 301 short of a plurality over Mr. Stoughton and Mr. Bishop, the Democratic candidate, who received 2,349 votes. General Hurlburd will be elected by from eight to ten thousand majority, the new apportionment having changed the lines of the old district. In the Fifth District, Hon. H. C. Burchard is nominated; he will be elected by 6,000 majority, and it may go higher. Mr. Burchard is a member of the Ways and Means Committee of the House, and occupies a commanding position. In the Sixth District Hon. J. B. Hawley is once more selected as the standard bearer of his party. Mr. Hawley was a member of the Forty-first, and was elected to the Forty-second Congress, and will be re-elected by four to five thousand majority. In the Seventh District Hon. Franklin Corwin is the Republican candidate, a popular man; he will have a majority of nearly 4000. In the Eighth district G. L. Fort has been nominated and will be elected by a majority in the neighborhood of 5,000. In the Ninth district Franklin Barrere is our candidate, a gentleman who has taken great interest in the welfare of his district; he is very strong and can count upon a seat in the next Congress, backed by a majority of 2,000. In the Tenth district Wm. H. Ray has been nominated; he is one of the wealthy men of the State. Great efforts have been put forth by the Republicans, and they are confident of electing Mr. Ray by 1,000 majority. In the Eleventh district A. C. Matthews has been nominated. This is a doubtful district, with the chances probably a little in our favor. To be correct in estimating the complexion of the State delegation in Congress, I have classed it as Democratic. In the Twelfth district Hon. M. H. Chamberlin leads the ticket. This is a Democratic district, and all the Republicans hope to do, and are confident of doing, is to reduce the Democratic majority to less than 1,000. In the Thirteenth district John McNulta will have a majority ranging from two to three thousand. In the Fourteenth District Jos. G. Cannon has been selected as the Republican candidate; he is sure of an election by a majority of 2,000. In the Fifteenth District George Hunt had the honor of a nomination, for that is all it will amount to, as the district is deep in Democracy, and will defeat him by 2,000 majority, reduction of the Democratic vote. In the Sixteenth District Jos. S. Morton will have a majority of 1,200. Mr. Morton has a strong hold upon the affections of the people of his district, and will prove an able representative. In the Seventeenth District Hon. J. B. Hay has been renominated. Mr. Hay is German, and is an element of strength among his people; Mr. Hay, while in Congress, has taken an active part in securing pensions and lands for our soldiers, and is now a member of the Military Committee; he will be returned by 1,800 majority. In the Eighteenth District Isaac Clements leads the Republican ticket, and will have a majority of 1,800 or more. In the Nineteenth District Hon. Green B. Raum, a farmer member of Congress, has become the Republican nominee, a gentleman of large public experience. The voters of the district would do honor to themselves by returning him, but that is too much to expect; the lamp of Democracy burns brightly there and he will be defeated by over 3,000 majority.

The Republican State ticket, headed by Dick Oglesby, will be elected by a majority of 50,000, and more—this was settled long ago, and the Lib-Dems. have given up the fight on that issue, and are now trying to secure the Legislature in the interest of Mr. Trumbull. Their efforts, however, will prove futile, as the Republicans count upon a majority of twenty to thirty on the joint ballot.

To the Hon. C. B. Farwell, Chairman of the State Central Committee, and one of the shrewdest politicians in the State, much of the success of the present canvass is due. He has sacrificed his business interests and labored earnestly for the success of the party. In this connection I would insert a word for the Secretary of the Committee, on whom has fallen much of the work, Hon. Daniel Shepard. He has spared no pains to make the victory complete. Captain Louis Rienburg, the Clerk of the Committee, has also done some hard work for the success of the party. Altogether, the State Central Committee has been very fortunate in the selection of its officers, and in common with others, we congratulate them upon their success. A. L. T.

Can Such Things Be?

From one of our Lake Shore cities there came here recently, bringing with him a newly-married, sweet young wife, a well-known merchant, Mr. B. He was on his wedding tour, and he was happy. Having numerous acquaintances in the vicinity of the Court House, and a tooth for German cooking, he took a room at the Hummel House, and ate several meals at the Debolt.

Mr. B. was not only happy over the possession of his new wife, and his resurrection from the depths of misery incident to widowerhood, but he was proud of her, and gloried in his success in having won her. Feeling thus, he was forward in introducing her to his friends, and happy in hearing their expressions of admiration. Having business on Pearl street one day, he tore himself away from his bride, with the assurance that he would soon return. On his way home he happened to meet a particular friend, from whom he would not take a refusal of his invitation to immediately call upon his wife. Arm in arm the friends marched up to the hotel, and up stairs to the bridal chamber. Mr. B. tapped on the door. No response came. In his hurry he thoughtlessly turned the knob and give the door a push. The door had been locked on the inside, but the rusty lock gave way instantly, and the two gentlemen found themselves looking upon a scene that fairly curdled B's blood with rage and despair. The guilty woman jumped from the bed and hid behind it. The male wretch, with a curse, ordered the men from his room. Refusing for a moment to credit his senses, Mr. B. rushed down to the office, followed by his friend, and demanded of the clerk:

"Where's my wife?"

"Up in her room."

Mr. B. commenced sinking down into his boots at this confirmation of what had already greeted his eyes, when the clerk, recollecting something, added:

"Up in the new room, you know. Here, boy, show Mr. B. to his room."

Mrs. B. was found reading a morning paper in the new room, and Mr. B. remembered that the clerk had promised, that morning, to give him a better room than the one they had occupied. The couple that had been so unceremoniously disturbed in the old room with the insecure fastening had come there that day. They had registered as man and wife.

Russian Conquest in Asia.

Cable dispatches relating that the Russian forces are preparing to march upon Khira are confirmed by foreign files received by the Java. The Czar has long complained that the rebellion of his subjects residing between the Aral and Caspian Seas has been supported by Khira; also that he has proof Khira has endeavored to induce the ruler of Bokhara to renounce allegiance to Russia. There is another reason. For a year the Russian Government has hankered after this territory, for it would give continuous sway over the land and water from the Caspian Sea to the Chinese frontier, as well as open a new and safe route to Central Asia. Russia is evidently in earnest, and should its army reach Khira the fate of Khianati is undoubtedly decided. It would either be incorporated or reduced to absolute dependency. The troops of the Czar have a difficult task before them, but the Cossacks, who will doubtless form the main portion of the army, are accustomed to such campaigning.

MR. ABBOTT, railroad agent at Cambridge, O., committed suicide yesterday, by shooting himself with a pistol through the head. From a gentleman who was in Cambridge at the time, and who visited the scene of the terrible affair five minutes after it occurred, we learn that Mrs. A. and daughter were on the eve of departing for Washington, D. C., and were in a room at their residence packing a trunk which Mr. A. had purchased in the morning. Hearing a pistol shot in the room adjoining they rushed there and found the husband and father lying on the floor, bleeding from a wound in the temple. In a few minutes he ceased to breathe.

THE PIEDMONT OF AMERICA.

BY REV. J. W. WALKER, WEST FAIRFIELD, PA.

[From the Presbyterian Banner.]

Securing a through ticket at the office of the Connellsville Railroad, on the corner of Fifth Avenue and Wood street, Pittsburgh, I entered the cars, and was soon on my way up the beautiful valley of the Mononghela and Yough, passing through growing towns and villages, which have sprung up by the magic touch of railroad influence, and along mountain scenery as grand, perhaps, as any on the whole Allegheny range. We arrived at Cumberland just an hour too late to make the connection with the Baltimore and Ohio road, an event said by travelers not to be unusual. After lying over ten hours, we were at the depot 2 o'clock in the morning, and heard the usual shout of the conductor, "All aboard!" At Washington we took the Orange and Alexandria Railroad, soon entered the Old Dominion, and in a few hours reached Gordonsville, Va. This is a growing and thriving town of about two thousand inhabitants, ninety miles west of Washington and seventy north of Richmond, and twenty miles south of the Blue Ridge, built principally since the close of the war, and the most important railroad center between Charlottesville and Alexandria. Here the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, coming from Richmond, intersects, or rather unites, with the Orange and Alexandria road, running on the same track to Charlottsville, a distance of twenty miles, where it diverges north, passing across the great valley of Virginia (the Shenandoah), through Staunton, the Sulphur Springs, down the Kanawha to the Ohio River, thus uniting the sea-board with the great West. These roads are said to be now in good hands, and the promptness of the departure and arrival of trains, the politeness and courtesy of the officers, and the movements of the employees remind one of Scott and the Pennsylvania Central.

This is one of the finest and oldest settlements in the State, having churches—one Presbyterian in Gordonsville, and one in Barboursville, a distance of six miles—and schools, and a highly cultivated, intelligent, genial community. Charlottesville is the seat of the University of Virginia, founded by Jefferson, and by far the most popular and flourishing institution in the State.

My business here being to secure a home for myself and family, in a healthy locality, where I might recruit my health and labor in the cause of the Master, as strength and opportunity may afford, I soon became acquainted with the indefatigable Rural Piedmont Land Agent, David D. M. Digges, Esq., whose office is contiguous to the depot. Mr. Digges is a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and quite a gentleman, and, by the way, is doing a good work in his calling, by enabling the native citizens of Virginia to dispose of their surplus lands, and emigrants from the Northern States, from England and other countries, to procure comfortable homes in a healthy climate, on most reasonable terms. Aiding thus, by his untiring energy, to increase the population of the State and develop the material resources of the country, he may well be regarded as a benefactor.

Riding several days over the country with the agent, and with P. P. Barbour, Esq., a young lawyer of this place and an elder in the Presbyterian church, who kindly volunteered to go with me and afford me every assistance in his power to make a judicious selection, and having consulted with Mr. Barbour and Bro. Dinwiddy, the pastor of the Presbyterian church, and others, I purchased a farm known as the Mount Henshaw farm, three and a half miles from Gordonsville, Orange County, lying along the base of a little mountain, from the summit of which you may behold for miles the Blue Ridge skirting along on the northwest, and the eye may look out East toward Alexandria and Washington, over the Rapidan, the plains of Manasses, and the field of Bull run; and on the south along the Pumunky towards Richmond; all places of note in the sad, fearful struggle of the past. Having secured my purchase, I was not a little, but most agreeably, surprised when informed that I had located within one mile of Montpelier, the residence of President Madison, and within a short distance of Monticello, the home of Jefferson. This belt of country, stretching along the south side of the Blue Ridge, known as the Piedmont region, is considerably elevated above the lowland of the coast, protected from the cold northwest winds by the Alleghenies, and fanned by the soft breezes of the Atlantic, has the reputation of possessing one of the most delightful and salubrious climates on the continent. The Winters are short and mild, and the heat of Summer, although more protracted, does not equal in intensity that of many parts of Pennsylvania and New York.

The lands (where they have not been exhausted by repeated crops), especially around those little mountains with which part of the country is specked, are very productive, yielding all the cereals, wheat, rye, corn, &c., in abundance; it is also well adapted for stock, being well watered and growing all the grasses when sown, and blue grass spontaneously. The fruits common to the climate, apples, pears, peaches, grapes of the choicest kind, grow luxuriantly.

Leaving an agent to make the necessary arrangements for occupying my new home, I took the cars, and, by way of Washington, Baltimore and Harrisburg, reached Johnstown in twenty hours, including four hours during which I lay over at Baltimore, the fast line not stopping at West Fairfield. I dropped off, took the Cincinnati express, and reached home early in the morning, after an absence of two weeks, minus one day. I would be glad to give to any one looking in this direction for a home, any information in my power, or would refer them to David D. M. Digges, Esq., of Gordonsville, Va.

A SOLEMN TRUTH.

Dr. Keyser's Lung Cure, with the Doctor's instructions, has often cured some of the most hopeless cases of consumption. Its whole action is fully explained in an Essay of thirty-two pages, which can be had by addressing the Doctor, at 167 Liberty, or 120 Penn street, Pittsburgh, Pa. It is not in lung diseases alone that this great remedy is effective. The Bronchia Catarrh, Asthma, Liver and Kidney diseases are equally within its reach. In fact, any chronic disease where the blood is unhealthy, it will act with a power and energy that is truly wonderful.

DAILY GAZETTE.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, November 1, 1872.

The bright opening of the last month in autumn brings with it a corresponding aspect in local money matters, the tone of which continues to improve, and the impression already created in regard to financial bearings is that the worst is past and that "joy cometh" to the borrower as the days grow shorter, and that the month of November will place things in a much more favorable situation than they have occupied since the close of September, the glory of the year. This is an encouraging feature, and the gradual mitigation of the money pressure will do much toward the restoration of trade, which had commenced to fall off for want of means to successfully carry it on. A healthy condition of the money market, with the election over, can scarcely fail in bringing the volume of the trade up to the point which it promised to reach at the commencement of the present season. The re-issue of the forty-four million of greenbacks retired by the advice of Secretary McCullough, together with the letting out of the 3 per cent reserve notes, would impart an impulse to trade that would probably answer all purposes until Congress meets, which should, on convening, at once go to work, and by judicious and careful legislation make provision to meet the rapidly increasing demand for circulating medium, that the constant augmentation in the volume of the trade of the United States requires. To keep it healthy, prosperous and profitable, a large addition in the way of money of some kind or other must be made. Without such action the result will not only be injurious to the trade and commerce of the country, but all her interests will directly and indirectly suffer. Emigration, which is now so rapidly peopling the new territory and making business for the Atlantic and Pacific Railroads, and to which the credit of the Government to a large extent is pledged, will fall off, and the development of the mineral resources of the country will languish for want of means to push it forward. The steady advance in real estate, which has been going on for the past three years, will be halted, building improvements will be impeded, and all for the want, if such a want is allowed to exist, of sufficient comprehensive, appreciative and judicious talent in the law-making power of the land to provide for the exigencies of the people, trade and commerce, which now exists or may hereafter arise.

From private information received this afternoon assurance is given that the balance of the forty-four million of greenbacks will be issued from time to time, as the exigencies of the state of trade and finance may require. This is good news, and will be likely to impart more confidence amongst the industrial classes than anything else at present would do.

NEW YORK, November 1, 1872.

Money easier; 5@7 per cent. The banks, trust companies, etc., are disbursing freely on November coupons. Exchange firm; 108¼ for long and 109⅞ for short sight. Gold heavy and lower; opened at 112⅝, and closed at 111⅞@112. Loans at 1-16 to flat for use and 2@4 for carrying. Clearances $59,000,000. Treasury disbursements $149,000. The export to-morrow is announced at $600,000. Governments opened lower, but closed quiet and steady. State bonds unchanged and dull. The stock market rallied to-day on the report of a new issue of greenbacks which was made on the 7th of October, to break the gold corner. Prices were irregular, and the speculation interest was again concentrated in a few shares. The largest dealings and widest fluctuations were in Pacific Mail, North Western, Western Union, Rock Island and Wabash, which ranged up and down ¼ to 2¾ per cent., the temper of speculation being alternately bearish and fullish. The changes in other shares were ¼ to ⅜ per cent., and closed firm. The Government is said to be drawing in the recent issue of greenbacks, and will have it withdrawn by the time Congress meets. The Government has called in $1,500,000 three per cents., which cannot be used for reserve after December 31st. The Commercial says the Memphis & Little Rock first mortgage is in default, and the gold bonds of the Chicago & Northwestern do not pay gold interest as heretofore, but fall back on the currency interest guaranteed by the Rock Island company. Some bankers refuse to accept currency upon these coupons, and send them back to Europe for further instructions. The refusal so pay gold interest is already received as a fresh blow to American credit in Europe.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

APPLES—The market continues dull, but prices are without quotable change; $1,50@2 per bbl for prime to choice.

APPLE BUTTER—45@50 cts per gallon.

BAGGING—Penn mill, two bushel, 38 cts, two and one-half bushels, 45; three bushels, 53; Allegheny two bushel, 36 cts.

BEANS—The receipts are increasing, but prices are still maintained; $2,50@3 per bushel.

BUTTER—Dealers nearly all report the market very dull, and even for the best grades, prices are barely sustained; prime to choice roll, 23@25; solid packed, 10@15.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—Sales in a jobbing way at 5 cts per lb.

BROOM CORN—Is quiet and unchanged; we continue to quote at 4 to 7 cents according to quality.

CANDLES—Mould, 12; Stearine, 15; Star, 22.

CARBON OIL—Is quoted at 23 cts by the car load for standard brands, and 1@2 cts additional for smaller lots.

CHESTNUTS—The market is easier, and we now quote at $4,25@4,50 per bushel. Walnuts, 65@70; Hickory nuts, $1,25@1,50.

CHEESE—Is still quoted, in a jobbing way, at 16@17 for prime Goshen; there is not much inquiry for low grade cheese. Sweitzer, 15½@16½.

CIDER—The receipts thus far have been light, but demand is limited, and prices many be given at $5@6 per bbl.

COUNTRY LARD—7½@8½ cts. per lb.

CRANBERRIES—Sackett's and Carey's Belle Berries, $14@15 per bbl common, $10@12.

CONCENTRATED LYE—$8 per case.

EGGS—The arrivals are increasing and the market is a shade easier; 28 may now be regarded as the ruling quotation.

DRIED FRUIT—The market continues very dull and no material improvement is expected for some weeks yet. Apples quoted at 5@6; Peaches—prime halves, 8@9 cts.

FEATHERS—No. 1 live geese may be quoted at 72 to 75 to the trade and 3 to 5c additional for smaller lots.

FLOUR—Is quiet—the market is devoid of a single new feature worthy of special notice. As there is no change whatever in prices, we continue former quotations; $7,50@8 for fair to choice spring wheat, and $8,25@8,50 for red winter. Rye Flour, $5,25@5,50.

GRAIN—The market for all kinds of Grain continues dull and, as a general thing, prices are easier with a drooping tendency. There is but little call for wheat, and that mainly from the country, while prices are nominal, ranging from $1,63@1,68 for fair to prime red and 7@10 cents more for white—we can report sales of 3 cars of fair red at $1,63, sold to a dealer here. Oats continue rather dull, with a supply somewhat in excess of present requirements but there is no change to note in prices; 39@40 for mixed and 41@42 for white. Shelled Corn is also reported dull though there is no change to make in quotations; offers to sell at 56 on track and 58 in elevator. Rye continues dull and in the absence of sales we continue former quotations; 75@80. Barley is less active, but not quotably lower; 80 to 85 for fair to good and 90 for prime.

SUGARS—Granulated, 13⅝; Crushed, 13⅝c Powdered, 13⅝; A Coffee, 13; B, 12⅝; Ex. C 12⅝; C., 12⅜; Chespeake Ex. C., 12⅛; Molasses Sugars, 8½@10; Porto Rico, 10⅝@11; Demarara, 11½@11⅝.

COFFEE—Choice Rio 23; Prime 22; Good 21; Fair 20; Java 25 to 26; Mocha 32. Roasted in packages 25; loose 24½.

RICE—Carolina, 8½@9; Rangoon, 7@7⅜; Patna 8.

SPICES—Grain Pepper, 23; Allspice, 18; Cassia, 40; Clover, 30; Nutmegs, $1,25.

HAY—Is in fair demand, but the receipts for some days past have been larger, and the market in consequence is easier; we continue to quote baled, on track, at $27@31 per ton according to quality.

HONEY—Sales 25@30 cts per lb.

LARD OIL—No. 1 extra may be quoted in a jobbing way at 75@78 cts.

ONIONS—In good supply, but unchanged; sales at $2,50@3,25 per bbl, according to quality.

POTATOES—The receipts have been increasing for several days past, and the market is easier though prices are still maintained: sales of prime Peach Blows, in bulk by the car load, at 68 to 70 Sweets $3,40@4 per bbl., the outside figure for prime Jerseys.

POULTRY—Live chickens, 50@60 cents per pair; dressed, 14@15 cts. per lb.

PROVISIONS—Plain Shoulders, 8; Sugar cured Shoulders, 9½c; Breakfast Bacon, 14½c; Rib Sides, 11½; Short Rib Sides, 12; Clear Sides, 12½; SugarCured Hams, 15c; Dried Beef, 16c. Lard, in tierces, 10c; half bbls, 11c; pails, 11½c. Mess Pork, $16,00; Beef Tongues, 7,50 per dozen.

WHISKY—Highwines may be quoted at 92 cts by the car load and 93@94 in small lots.

PITTSBURGH IRON MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, November 1, 1872.

The Pig Iron market continues exceedingly dull and while hopes are still entertained of an early improvement, the prospects at this writing are not very encouraging. As has been the case for two or three months past, the demand is restricted entirely to supplying immediate wants; consumers generally seem to be impressed with the belief that prices are destined to rule lower, hence their policy seems to be to carry as little stock as possible, and this accounts for the very limited amount of business. Some of the commission men are counting on an improved demand after the presidential election while others have but little hope of a better market until the 1st. of January next; the fact is, the future of the market is very misty—it is a problem which all of our operators have been endeavoring to solve for some time past, but thus far without success—they are all completely at sea.

As compared with last week there is no quotable change in prices, but as compared with the highest point in the summer, there is a decline of fully five dollars per ton; standard mill irons which sold then at $55, 4 mos. can now be purchased for $50; while in common and medium grades the decline is still greater. The eastern markets are reported firmer, but the advices from England continue discouraging, and this, of course, is not without its effect in depressing the market here.

The Steel market is firmer in consequence of an advance of $40 per ton in England, and an advance here soon is very probable. American steel is $50@60 per ton cheaper than English.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, November 1, 1872.

The crude market was weak to-day, and prices have dropped 10@15 cts. per bbl. Sales of 2,000 bbls at Parker at $4,25, and subsequently, sales were reported at $4,20. Refined also dull, but prices are without important change; 26@26¼ for any delivery this year in Philadelphia, and 23 free on cars here. The depression in the exported trade is attributed to the scarcity of tonnage and consequent high rates of ocean freights.

Corn in the West.

The Chicago Tribune of Thursday says: It was suggested to-day that the only way to return to something like paying prices for corn and oats would be to stop the supplies from the country for a few days. There is no doubt that this plan would be effectual if it were only practicable. Chicago is simply loaded down, and there is not money enough at command to carry the grain to higher prices, while the carriers take advantage of the situation to impose high rates of freight that take away what little would otherwise be left for the first owner. If the receipts could be reduced to zero, or near it, for a few days, the price of freights would drop so much that shippers would be able to clear the elevators, and make room for the receipts of winter; in which case there would be a chance of better prices when the receipts were resumed. Our receipts are now light when compared with what they would be in prices were more encouraging to the farmer; but they are still too large to admit of a decided advance unless our stocks could be reduced. While we state the case thus, we concede that it would be impossible and perhaps unwise, to organize to this end, and the result desired could certainly not be gained without organization. It is probable that if prices should recede a little further there would be an almost complete cessation of supplies, because prices are already down to a point where it scarcely pays the farmer to haul the grain to the depot. It is reported that they are already burning corn for fuel, in many parts of Iowa, and, unless there should be a marked improvement, we may look for a general resort to this mode of lessening the rigors of winter and the plethora of crops. But by that time our lake will be closed to navigation for the winter, and high railroad freights will be the ruling: so that the producer can scarcely look for substantial relief before the coming spring.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede slowly at this point, with six feet two inches in the channel. Weather clear and pleasant and all that could possibly be desired for out-door business, which, by the way, was unusually active at the landing yesterday.

The arrivals since the date of our last report include the Carrie Brooks from Wheeling and the Granite State from Portsmouth, and they both departed again.

The Arlington is due from Cincinnati this morning, and as will be seen by card, she will at once commence to load for New Orleans. Capt. Dan Moore is in command and A. S. Sheppard is in charge of the office.

The Juniata is due from Cincinnati to-morrow, and, as will be seen by card, she is announced to return forthwith.

—We clip the following items from the Sioux City Journal of the 26th: The Western commenced taking on a Brule Agency trip of government goods yesterday. Her machinery is being repaired and she will soon be all right again.

The Hiram Wood will not return to this city until about the close of navigation, but will continue to ply between Yankton and posts further up. The Sioux City, upon her arrival here, will take the Yankton freight.

The Esperanza, from Rice, came in about noon yesterday, bringing six companies of the Eighth infantry, returned from the Yellowstone expedition, and went below last evening. She will leave the soldiers at Omaha, and proceed South for the winter.

—The St. Louis Globe says: The most exciting race since the Lee and Natchez, took place between the City of Alton and Commonwealth on their present up-trip. Both were towing two barges, and no doubt thousands of dollars would have been wagered on the race only the dollars were wanting; However, much to the surprise of all, the Commonwealth passed the Alton fairly and squarely at Caney Point, above Cairo, and beat her into port several hours. They were making considerably under fifteen miles an hour up stream during the whole race from Helena here.

—Iron ship-building has come to be classed among the most important manufactures of Buffalo. Two iron vessels are being constructed there at the present time—one, 70 feet long, 14 feet 3 inches beam, 6 feet 6 inches deep, is for parties in Duluth; the other, 127 feet long, 23 feet beam, 7 feet 3 inches deep, is for the Government, and is destined for service on the Southern Coast.

—A St. Louis exchange of Wednesday has the following: Yesterday the Lady Lee was sold to the Lady Lee Transportation Co for $40,000, by T. W. Rea one-fourth, Carter & Conn one-half, and H. A. Dohrman one-half. Mary E. Poe to the Mary E. Poe Transportation Co for $19,000, by Thos. Poe, one half, Carter & Conn one-fourth, Johs J. Bouge of Sioux City one-fourth.

—A private letter from parties in Greenville, Miss., says the merchants of that city have formed a wharfboat association, and purchased the Merchants' Association landing and the wharfboat of Archer, Nelson & Co. for the sum of $22,000, and will hereafter have the wharfboat as the only landing.

—The Vicksburg Times is very severe on the Natchez, Lee and Pargoud. Shippers put cotton on these boats at $1.50 per bale, while St. Louis boats are willing to carry it all to New Orleans at $1 per bale.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

DR. A. SLEE, No. 264 PENN STREET.—Longer in the practice of Special and Chronic Diseases than any physician in the city so advertising. All forms of venereal diseases cured in the most thorough and satisfactory manner. Spermatorrhea or nervous debility, producing blotches, debility, dizziness, nervousness, dimness of sight, noises in the head, indigestion, despondency, confusion of ideas, loss of memory, and which unfit the victim for business or marriage, and ultimately causing consumption and insanity, are permanently cured. Long standing constitutional diseases skillfully treated, and the effects of mercury completely eradicated.

The Doctor gives particular attention to female complaints, Sterility, Amenorrhœa, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhœa, and all irregularities giving annoyance and trouble. A medical pamphlet is published in plain language on venereal diseases sent by mail for two stamps. Correspondence strictly confidential. Hours—9 A. M. to 8 P. M., Sundays excepted. Pittsburgh Medical Institute, 264 Penn street.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

Drs. Jordan and Davieson,

Beg to inform their friends, patients and the public generally, that owing to their increase of practice they are compelled, reluctantly, to discontinue their branch office in this city, and in future are to be consulted only at their HEAD OFFICE, 1625 Filbert Street, Philadelphia.

Just published: PRACTICAL OBSERVATIONS ON NERVOUS DEBILITY AND PREMATURE DECAY, being a synopsis of Lectures delivered at the great Institute of Anatomy, 807 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, to which is added an important essay on MARRIAGE, the whole illustrated with numerous interesting cases from actual practice. This interesting work will be forwarded on receipt of 25 cents, stamps. Address DRS. JORDAN & DAVIESON, 1625 Filbert street, Philadelphia. All letters will receive immediate attention. Address 1625 FILBERT STREET, Philadelphia.

Speedily Cured.—All Forms of Venereal, Private and Nervous disease at the old established Girard Medical Institute, No. 172 Second avenue, between Smithfield and Grant streets, Pittsburgh, Pa.

NO CHARGE UNTIL CURED.

Syphilis, Stricture, Orchitis, Hernia and all Urinary diseases are cured in the shortest possible time that will insure permanent relief. Spermatorrhea, or Seminal weakness and Impotency, as the result of self-abuse or excess in maturer years, and which produce some of the following effects, as emissions, blotches, debility, dizziness, nervousness, dimness of sight, cough, indigestion, constipation, despondency, confusion of ideas, aversion to society, loss of memory, and sexual power, and which unfits the victim for business or marriage, and ultimately causing insanity and consumption, are thoroughly and permanently cured. Medicines supplied at the Institute. A medical pamphlet relating to private diseases sent in sealed envelope for two stamps. All communications strictly confidential. This Institute was established for the express purpose of supplying the afflicted with scientific and reliable treatment, and is not to be classed with the numerous quacks and impostors that infest all large cities. The proprietors have made the treatment of Private and Special diseases the study of their lives, and can refer to thousands all over the country who have been benefitted and cured by their treatment. No matter how difficult or long standing your case may be, if curable, after a personal examination they will frankly tell you; remember, they have cured in my cases given up by other physicians.

Patients treated by mail or express, but where possible, it is best to visit the city for personal consultation, or address:

GIRARD MEDICAL INSTITUTE, No. 172 Second avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa. Office hours 9 A. M. to 7 P. M. Sundays by appointment.

LEGAL.

ALLEGHENY COUNTY, ss.—THE Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, to the Sheriff of said county greeting: Whereas, the City of Pittsburgh, did on the 3d day of April, 1872, file in the District Court in and for the county of Allegheny, a claim for the sum of ninety-four dollars and fifty cents ($94.50), with interest from Dec. 11th, 1871, and five per cent. addition thereof, attorney's commission for collection, against all that certain lot of ground in the 11th ward of the City of Pittsburgh, situate on the north side of Reed street, fronting on said street 20 feet and running back about 90 feet, and bounded and described as follows, to wit: beginning on the north side of Reed street at a point 80 feet from Overhill street, thence along Reed street towards Roberts 20 feet to a point, and extending back about 90 feet, preserving the same width, of which the owner is unknown. Said claim being the assessment against the said premises for the cost and expense of grading, paving and setting with curb stones, that part of Reed street, extending from Colwell street to Overhill street. And whereas the said plaintiffs claim to have a lien on the said premises for the said sum of $94.50, with the interest and commissions aforesaid, which still remain due and unpaid. Now we command you, that you make known to the said unknown owner that he be and appear before our Judges of our said Court at a District Court to be held the 4TH MONDAY OF NOVEMBER, 1872, to show if anything they know, why the said sums should not be levied on said premises, according to the form and effect of the Act of Assembly in such case made and provided, if to them it shall seem expedient; and have you then and there this writ.

Witness the Hon. M. Hampton, President of our said Court at Pittsburgh, the 17th day of October, A. D. 1872.
JOSEPH ROSS, Prothonotary.
Attest: HUGH S. FLEMING, Sheriff.

ALLEGHENY COUNTY, ss.—THE Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, To the Sheriff of said county greeting: Whereas, the city of Pittsburgh, did on the 3d day of April 1872 file in the District Court in and for the county of Allegheny, a claim for the sum of ninety-four dollars and fifty cents ($94.50), with interest from December 11th, 1871, and five per cent. additional thereof, attorney's commission for collection, against all that certain lot of ground in the Eleventh ward of the city of Pittsburgh, situate on the north side of Reed street, fronting on said street 20 feet, and running back about 90 feet, and bounded and described as follows, to wit: Beginning on the north side street at the distance of one hundred (100) feet from Overhill street; thence along Reed street twenty feet to lot of Ellen Carsten, and extending back ninety feet, preserving the same width, of which the owner is unknown or reputed owner. Said claim being the assessment against the said premises for the cost and expense of grading, paving and setting with curb stones, that part of Reed street, extending from Colwell street to Overhill street. And, whereas, the said plaintiffs claim to have a lien on said premises, for said sum of $94.50 with the interest and commissions aforesaid, which still remain due and unpaid to said plaintiff. Now we command you, that you make known to the said (the unknown owner) that he be and appear before our Judges of our said Court, at a District Court to be held the 4TH MONDAY OF NOVEMBER, 1872, to show if anything they know or has to say, why the said sums should not be levied on said premises, according to the form and effect of the Act of Assembly in such case made and provided, if to them it shall seem expedient; and have you then and there this writ.

Witness the Hon. M. Hampton, President of our said Court at Pittsburgh, the 17th day of October, A. D. 1872.
JOSEPH ROSS, Prothonotary.
Attest: HUGH S. FLEMING, Sheriff.

ALLEGHENY COUNTY, ss.—THE Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, to the Sheriff of said county, greeting: Whereas, the city of Pittsburgh, did on the 5th day of September, 1871, file in the District Court in and for the county of Allegheny, a claim for the sum of one hundred dollars ($100), with interest from April 10, 1871, and five per cent. additional thereto, attorney's commission for collection, against all that certain lot of ground in the Eleventh ward of the city of Pittsburgh, situate on the east side of Overhill street, fronting on said street 20 feet and running back about 100 feet, and bounded and described as follows, to wit: Beginning on the east side of Overhill street at the corner of lot owned by Dr. A. Arthurs; thence extending along Overhill street northwardly 20 feet to lot owned by J. Grandison, and extending back 100 feet, preserving the same width, being lot No. 112 in Colwell's plan of lots, of which the owner is unknown; said claim being the assessment against the said premises for the damages assessed to John Davis and others, caused by the laying out and opening of Rose street from Overhill street to Devillers street. And whereas, the said plaintiffs claim to have a lien on said premises for said sum of $100, with the interest and commissions aforesaid, which still remain due and unpaid to said plaintiff. Now we command you that you make known to the said (the unknown owner) that he be and appear before our Judges of our said Court, at a District Court to be held the 4th Monday of November, 1872, to show, if anything he knows or has to say, why the said sums should not be levied on said premises, according to the form and effect of the Act of Assembly in such case made and provided, if to them it shall seem expedient, and have you then and there this writ.

Witness the Hon. M. Hampton, President of our said Court at Pittsburgh, the 7th day of October, A. D. 1872.

NOTICE.—THE HEIRS AND LEGAL representatives of THOMAS P. ADAMS, late of the borough of Birmingham, deceased, are hereby notified that an application has been made to the Court of Common Pleas of Allegheny county, (in No. 321 December Term, 1872), that satisfaction be entered upon the records of a certain mortgage executed by John Gallagher to said Thomas P. Adams, and recorded in Mortgage Book, vol. 33, page 239, in Recorder's office of said county, that they are required to appear at the next term of said Court on the FIRST MONDAY OF DECEMBER, 1872, NEXT, to answer the petition aforesaid.
HUGH S. FLEMING, Sheriff.

IN THE MATTER OF THE VACATION of a part of Fremont street, City of Allegheny, in Court of Quarter Sessions, No. —, September Session, 1872.

And now, to wit.: 26th October, 1872, petition presented and the Court grant a rule returnable on the first Saturday of December next, at 10 A. M., to show cause why so much of Fremont street, city of Allegheny, extending along the eastern side of said street, a width of eighteen feet from Pennsylvania avenue to Gray's north line, should not be closed up and vacated.
FROM THE RECORD.
Attest: JOS. BROWNE, Clerk.

NOTICE.—WHEREAS LETTERS TESTAMENTARY to the Estate of CLARISSA HERRON, late of the city of Pittsburgh, deceased, have been granted to the subscribers, all persons indebted to the said estate are requested to make immediate payment, and those having claims or demands against the estate of the said decedent will make known the same without delay to
RICHARD HERRON, Iowa street,

HOME NEWS.

Letters Held for Postage.—John L. S. Worth, Union City, Ind., 3c; A. B. Rawles & Son, Rome, Mich., 3c; Mrs. M. J. Brownlee, Cornelia, Mo., 3c; Miss Kate S. H. Herd, Johnstown, Pa., 3; Dr. S. H. Wilson, Urichsville, O., 3; Peter Bates, Allegheny City, Pa., 2c; Reuben Bartley, Allegheny City, Pa., 3c; Wm. McHerron, Allegheny City, Pa., 2c.

Divorce Cases.—Two applications for divorce were entered in the Court of Common Pleas yesterday. Samuel M. Meyers prayed for a separation of the bonds uniting him to Ann Meyers, on the ground of desertion and adultery. They were married in 1865 and separated about two years ago. Margaret Vogel asked for legal release from Fred Vogel, on the ground of his wilful desertion. In both cases subpoenas were awarded.

Larceny of Butter.

Yesterday morning a young girl named Kate Hearvy was arrested in the Allegheny market house for stealing nine pounds of butter from a farmer. She was taken to the lock-up, but the farmer upon recovering his property refused to prosecute, and she was subsequently released.

Felonious Assault.

Yesterday morning, between five and six o'clock, a disturbance occurred at the St. James Hotel, on Liberty street, opposite the Union Depot, and James McGinly, the clerk, received a slight wound from a knife, in his stomach. Mr. McGinly charges Patrick McKenna with inflicting the wound and made an information before the Mayor, charging McKenna with felonious assault and battery. McKenna was arrested and waived a hearing, and in default of $2,000 bail was committed for trial.

Abusing His Wife.

A man named Dempsey was arrested yesterday in East Liberty, on a charge of beating his wife. The cries of the woman attracted the attention of the neighbors, and upon entering the house she was found insensible from the effects of his abuse. When she had recovered consciousness, she stated that her husband had attacked her, knocked her down by a blow in the mouth, kicked her violently in the back and then threw her down stairs, at the foot of which she was found insensible as related. Her story was corroborated by her little boy. Application was made by Deputy Mayor Phillips to the poor authorities, and the woman and her child will probably be taken in charge by them.

Fires in October.

During the month of October, as reported by Fire Marshal Butler, there were twenty-five fires. Five of these were caused by oil, and two resulted in the total destruction of the property in which they occurred. Three persons lost their lives by oil fires, and two were badly burned by the careless handling of oil. The heaviest loss during the month by fire was the fire at Hartje, Wiley & Co's, in Allegheny, which aggregated $90,000. In October, 1871, there were thirty-three fires, six of which was caused by oil. The loss last month was about thirty per cent. greater than during the same month last year. The Fire Marshal during last month ordered the removal of ten nuisances.

A Sure Disinfectant.

There are many disinfectants, so called, but the really reliable preparations of this character are few. Of one of them, however, we can speak confidently—that is the Carbolate Powder Universal Disinfectant, which is prepared at the Pittsburgh Tar and Chemical Works, corner Seventh and Duquesne streets. This is emphatically the disinfectant for the sick chamber for stables, or for any other place where a reliable disinfectant is needed. The "Universal" is sure, and now when particular attention is called to the subject, we advise all in need of such an article to make a practical test of this preparation. It is manufactured under the direction of Prof. Otto Wuth, which is a guarantee that it is all that is represensed. We can confidently recommend it for general use as a sure disinfectant.

The Hartranft Club.

Although General Hartranft could not be in attendance at the reception of the Hartranft Club, which was intended to be given in his honor, the affair came off last evening and proved a most pleasant and agreeable occasion. Capt. Moore received a letter from General Hartranft yesterday, explaining the cause of his absence, and tendering his sincere regrets that circumstances beyond his control prevented his attending. A very select and fashionable company gathered at City Hall on Market street, and spent the evening in "tripping the light fantastic" to the excellent music of the Great Western Band. The hall was most beautifully decorated with flags, corps, badges and evergreen wreaths, and a sound board was erected above the band, which added greatly to the effect of the music. The festivities were continued long after midnight, when the company dispersed all highly delighted with the success of the occasion.

Amusements.

PITTSBURGH OPERA HOUSE.—A week of excellent entertainments at this house is to be fittingly closed to-day with a splendid programme. For the afternoon matinee "Enoch Arden," with Mr. Adams and the whole company. In the evening the ever popular "Wild Oats," in which Mr. Adams has always been such a prime favorite. Amusement seekers certainly cannot complain of the day's programme. On Monday the celebrated Coleman Sisters will appear at this house.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—A large audience gathered at the Academy last evening on the occasion of a farwell benefit to Miss Katie Putnam, Miss Putnam appearing in Wallack's drama of "Rosedale." The last opportunity to see this popular artiste will be given to-day. At the matinee this afternoon "The Old Curiosity Shop" will be rendered, and this evening "A Household Treasure" and "The Little Mother."

FRED. AIMES' THEATRE.—Matinee day is a distinguished feature at this establishment, and to-day is to be one of the very best. The whole talent of the company will be brought out in one of the richest, raciest variety programmes of the season. The evening performance will be up to the standard of this first class variety establishment.

TRIMBLE'S VARIETIES.—Entire new bill for to-day. Zanfretta and Taylor matinee for which especial preparations have been made. A great Saturday night variety bill to-night.

BODY FOUND.

The Prisoner Suicide—Two Weeks in the Water.

Yesterday morning Coroner West was summoned to Port Perry to hold an inquest upon the remains of a man found floating in the river. Upon answering and holding and investigation the official discovered that the body was supposed to be that of John Blackmore, a prisoner who jumped from the steamer Elisha Bennett a couple of weeks ago, while being brought to the city, on a charge of having robbed the house of Mr. Fred. Love, in Elizabeth. The particulars of the occurrence must be fresh in the minds of our readers. The man was in charge of Officer Hallett, and as the boat neared lock No. 2 asked permission to go in the water closet. On the way thither he escaped from the officer, jumped overboard and was drowned.

Though the remains upon which the inquest was held were thought to be those of Blackmore, they were so much decomposed that they were unrecognizable, and the jury returned a verdict of found drowned.

JUMPED FROM THE BRIDGE.

Suicide by Drowning—A Young Brewer Takes A Fatal Leap—And Finds a Watery Grave.

Yesterday morning the body of a man was found floating in the river near Wood's Run, at the foot of Brunot's Island, by a young man, who procured a skiff and brought the remains to shore. Alderman Kerr, of the Ninth ward, was directed by Coroner West to hold the inquest. The investigation revealed the fact that the dead man was Nicholas Schultz, a resident of the Twelfth ward, Pittsburgh. Deceased had been a brewer, maintaining an establishment corner Twenty-eighth and Penn streets, but residing at No. 1,079 Penn avenue. It seems he had been troubled about business matters for several days past. Thursday morning he left the house, saying he was going to the Court House to get his license transferred so that he could move into a new place. He was not seen after that by his friends alive.

About midnight a gentleman crossing the Mechanic street bridge saw a man ahead of him a short distance, suddenly, when about the middle of the bridge, jump over into the river. The action was taken so quick he had no time to recognize distinctly the suicide, but from the description thinks it was Schultz.

The inquest resulted in a verdict of suicide by drowning.

Deceased was about thirty-five years of age, and had a wife but no children.

FINAL DEMONSTRATION.

The Close of the Campaign.

THE PROCESSION LAST EVENING.

The Marching Clubs Out in Force.

The weather and condition of the streets, as well as other circumstances, were decidedly favorable, last evening, to the successful carrying out of the extensive programme of the "Grand Final Demonstration." The atmosphere was just cool enough to stimulate the torchbearers, and as the evening was pleasant everybody turned out to witness the grand finale one of the most exciting campaigns on record. Fifth avenue and Smithfield street were absolutely jammed with people; and especially was it the case with the former, between Grant and Wood streets, where a larger crowd was gathered than has been seen there since the Soldiers' Convention. The procession was rather late in starting, as it was detained in waiting for the Allegheny corps. When the North Side delegation did arrive, however, their fine appearance fully compensated for any tardiness on their part.

At half-past eight o'clock the procession formed on Smithfield street and moved up Smithfield street to Third avenue, and proceeded over the following route:

Up Third avenue, thence to Ross street, thence to Old avenue, thence by Fifth avenue to Congress street, thence to Franklin street, thence to Fulton street, thence to Centre avenue, thence to Erin street, thence to Wylie avenue, thence to Fifth avenue, thence to Market street, thence by Suspension bridge to Allegheny, and up Federal street to Church avenue, thence to Cedar avenue, thence to North avenue, thence by the drive through North Park to Ohio street, thence to Marion avenue, thence by drive through West Park to Stockton avenue, thence to Federal street and the bridges.

The procession moved in the following order: The Grant Hussars, mounted as an advanced guard.

These were followed by Chief Marshal, A. H. Gross, and staff, preceded by the Washington Cornet Band.

Next came the County Executive Committee, in carriages.

Carriages, containing Members of the City Press, followed.

DECORATIONS.

A very creditable display of decorations was made at numerous points along the route. Among the more noticable places were several houses on Congress street. Four or five houses on this street were really very beautifully decorated, and the displays of fire works was very fine. Several residences on Franklin and Fulton streets. Centre avenue also made fine displays of flags and lanterns; these were loudly cheered by the procession as they passed. A gas jet—Grant Wilson and Hartranft was displayed from the Monongahela House. Several fine displays of colored fire were made, and among the most brilliant were those which Messrs. James E. Burns & Co., displayed at their drug store, corner of Penn avenue and St. Clair street. As the Allegheny corps came over and while the main procession was marching towards Allegheny, the most lavish display of different colored fires was made by these gentlemen, on both sides of the street, and for squares in every direction the street was made almost as light as day.

THE FINALE.

Not many people will deeply regret that torchlight processions and other exciting political demonstrations are, for this campaign, concluded. We have had such a long continued siege of political excitement that all will rejoice in its termination. But one more effort on next Tuesday, and we may settle down and enjoy another four years of peace and quiet under the administration of General Grant.

A FEW MORE LEFT.

Look at These Figures for Organs.

But you had better not look too long, as they are selling off rapidly, and in a few days we expect to close them all out. Every instrument guaranteed to be in perfect condition, and in every way first class. We are offering these instruments at these prices only because they are the ordinary cabinet style, in general use until within the last few months, but since the introduction of our new style resonent cases, we find the demand for them is almost universal, and having a very large stock of the cabinet styles on hand we will sell them at the figures given below rather than hold them over. All of them are of the celebrated Taylor & Farley make.

No. 1 organs, 1 stop; price $125, for $85 cash, or $90 in payments.

No. 2 organs, 4 stops, price $145, for $100 cash, or $108 in payments.

No. 2 organs, 5 stops, tremolo, price $155, for $107 cash, or $115 in payments.

No. 5 organs, 5 stops, Vox Humana, price $170, for $120 cash, or $130 in payments.

No. 6 organs, 6 stops, Vox Humana and Voll Celestes, price $190, at $130 cash, or $140 in payments.

All the above instruments are perfectly new, and warranted for five years.

We have also a large miscellaneous lot of second hand pianos and organs, that will be sold very low, to get them out of the way. Call on or address S. Hamilton, sign of Celestes, 51 Fifth avenue, Pittsburgh.

REPRESENTATIVE ESTABLISHMENT.

The East Excelled—How it is Done—Workman & Davis, Carriage Builders—How they Undersell their Competitors.

The very low prices for which the firm of Workman & Davis, the great carriage builders of Allegheny, have been selling vehicles, has attracted attention and secured them a name far in advance of other firms. The fact has become noted that they sell cheaper than eastern factories. The reason is that they are thoroughly practical workmen themselves, and employ only skilled workmen in every branch of their business, using only the very best articles in all the work they put up, and only asking and expecting a fair living price—rather selling their work at a small profit to leaving it lay on their hands. They fully understand the motto of a "nimble sixpence being better than a slow shilling." Therefore they sell their work at what is considered a low price by those who understand anything about the value of such vehicles as this firm manufacture. Let all who want any articles in their line call at the repository, Nos. 167 and 171 Penn street, Pittsburgh, or at the manufactory on Arch street, Allegheny, where specimens of their work can be seen. They also attend to the repairing of carriages of every description, and all work entrusted to their care will receive prompt attention.

If you want a nice parlor clock that will be an ornament to any room, call at Geo. W. Bigg's, No. 159 Smithfield street. He has a large assortment of the most unique styles.

EPIZOOTIC.

The Disease Moving Towards the Old City—Its Appearance in Lawrenceville—Twenty Horses in the Stables of R. Young & Co., Attacked—The Stables of the Citizens' Passenger Railway Company.

The horse disease, which we mentioned yesterday morning as being at East Liberty, is slowly, but steadily making its way towards the old city, and yesterday appeared at Lawrenceville, in the stables of Messrs. Robt. Young & Co., on Fortieth street, below Butler. Upon visiting these stables yesterday afternoon, we found twenty cases of what is supposed to be the same disease that is prevailing in the Eastern cities, except that it is milder in form. Messrs. Young & Co., have twenty-two horses in their stables, and on Thursday morning one of the animals was attacked with the disease. Nothing seemed wrong with the remainder of the animals until early yesterday morning, when nineteen others were similarly attacked. The horses are taken with spells of coughing which last for several moments, when for a time they seem better. A whitish fluid continually runs from their noses. At these stables nothing was being done to prevent or cure the disease, except to keep the stables clean and allow the animals to rest. None of the horses were used yesterday, except two, which were used in hauling saw dust to the stable. The animals eat considerably less than they did before they were attacked. Three or four of them seem particularly sick, while the remainder are not so bad. The proprietors express no great anxiety at the appearance of the disease, and think that if the animals are properly cared for, and not used, none of the cases will prove fatal.

The horses of Messrs. Moreland & Mitchell, in East Liberty, which we mentioned yesterday, are in about the same condition with perhaps one or two exceptions. Some of them now eat a little. One very valuable horse Mr. Moreland has very little hopes of saving. He is seized with a very violent fit of coughing and was in a very hopeless condition. None of the horses are allowed to be placed in the stables of the firm in the west end of the city. Several of the horses which belong to private individuals, and are keep in the livery stable, are also afflicted with the disease.

In the private stables of George B. Littlefield, Esq., who lives on Forty-fourth street, three or four very valuable horses were attacked with the disease yesterday morning.

We visited the stables of the Citizen's Passenger Railway Company, on Butler street, near Forty-second, yesterday afternoon, and found that nothing resembling the disease had yet made its appearance among their horses. The stable contains two hundred and ten horses, and has recently been thoroughly cleansed and whitewashed. Yesterday the stables were disinfected by burning assafoetida, and a barrel of carbolic acid had just been received, which was to be dissolved in water for the purpose of cleansing the entire stable. Everything about the stable seems to be thoroughly cleansed and well arranged, and if the disease makes its appearance it will certainly be no fault of the efficient superintendent, Mr. Wm Livingstone.

There seems to be some difference of opinion on the part of the veterinary surgeons as to whether or not these cases mentioned above are the genuine epizootic which is raging in the east. Some of them affirm that it is nothing more than a cold, while others hold that it is the same disease which affects the animals of New York. One thing is certain that if it is not an epidemic it is certainly very remarkable that the same disease should simultaneously attack twenty horses in one stable. Thus far, however, no cases have resulted fatally, and there seems to be but little fear and anxiety that the disease will amount to anything very serious or result in much more than greatly inconveniencing the owners.

CASTLE SHANNON.

The First Sale of Lots—A Great Indication.

No better evidence is needed of the value of property at Castle Shannon, in the eyes of Real Estate dealers, and all who know what an eligible site is, than the result of the sale last Monday. Although the day was not as favorable as it might have been, there was a good attendance, and seventy-five lots went off at an aggregate price of $24,850, while since that time over $12,000 more of the property has been sold. Workingmen and all who desire cheap homes, at points where the increase in value is sure to make the investment double in a short time should ponder these figures, and then be prepared to take advantage of the next sale.

Her Choice.

"So you've come to a conclusion at last. What a beautiful machine—where did you get it," said a lady to her friend who had long been debating in reference to the purchase of a sewing machine.

"Oh yes, I did make a decision at last, and I got a beauty. It's the Florence; I took it because its so easy learning to run it, and I've found it does the work as well as I want it; I got it, too, for a reasonable price, and I would'nt be without it now. It was guaranteed to give satisfaction and I've no fault to find, which you known is pretty high praise, as I'm not easily pleased."

"It's a beauty," said her friend, and then she sat down to try it. "Why how easy it runs, without noise and requiring no exertion whatever. It runs as smooth as though it was all oil. I believe I'll get one for myself. Let's go round and see some."

And the twain wended their way to the General Agency, No. 8 Sixth street. When they returned, Messrs Heckert & McKain had added another sale to the list for that day.

True Merit.

There is no sewing machine now offered to the American public that deserves more credit for being as near pefection, as the American Button Hole and Overseaming Sewing Machine. This machine will do all kinds of sewing that can be done by any other, and will also make the button holes—which no other can do—and all seamstresses and tailors know that the making of the button hole is one of the most tedious parts of a garment to make, and this machine will make them just as easy as sewing a plain seam, and will also make them a good deal better and nicer than can be done by hand. Ladies, we advise you to call at the salesrooms, 178 Liberty street, and see this machine at work.

A Fine Display.

The proprietor of the old Beehive merchant tailoring establishment, Mr. Thomas Scandrett, is now showing one of the largest and finest stocks of custom-made clothing for men, youths and boys ever seen in this city. Importing material in large quantities and making up his own goods, he sells the garments and suits for little more than the cloth would cost elsewhere. Call and examine his fine stock of imported cloths, and also of fine furnishing goods. This is one of the reliable houses of the city, and the purchaser is sure that what he pays his money for is a genuine article—nothing shoddy about it. The Beehive stand is at 225 Liberty street.

Pleasant Weather.

The beautiful weather of yesterday induced many ladies to go out shopping, and of course they wended their ways to their favorite emporium of fashion, Messrs. Rosenbaum & Fleishman's, No. 76 market street, to see the latest styles. The assortment at this house just now is exceedingly rich and varied, and has never been surpassed even by any previous stock put on exhibition by this firm. The ladies seem to appreciate the opportunities for bargains which are offered, and are crowding the place. Any lady in Pittsburgh who wishes to be sure she is getting the latest fashion, should make her purchases at Rosenbaum & Fleishman's.

THE WASHINGTON COUNTY MURDER.

More Light on the Subject—One of the Murderers Confesses—$45 is All They Got.

In yesterday's issue we noticed that a man had been arrested in Brookville, Pa., and had confessed that he was one of the murderers of Mr. Sproul who was murdered some five years ago in Washington county, this State. We learn from the Brookville Jeffersonian of the present week the following particulars concerning this most remarkable confession, and the peculiar circumstances under which it was made:

"On Sunday last a man with a horse and buggy arrived at the Grant House, in this place, and put up for the night. He appeared to be anxious to sell the buggy, offering it for $30, when its real value would approximate $150. This conduct led the proprietor of the hotel, Mr. Emery, to suspect that the property has been stolen, and the man being unable to pay the bill upon leaving on Monday morning, Mr. Emery refused to allow him to take it away, and immediately telegraphed to several points, asking for information concerning the man or property. At this action the stranger was greatly incensed, and repaired to an attorney's office to ascertain what could be done in the matter, and finding that he could not regain possession of the horse and buggy, without first paying the hotel bill, he left town. Nothing more was seen or heard of him until in the evening, when he was brought to town in custody of the constable of Knox township, and was committed to jail upon the charges of murder and horse stealing, upon commitments issued by M. E. Steiner, Esq., of Knoxdale.

It appears that when the man, who gives his name as Hiram Daley left here he followed the turnpike until he reached Port Barnett, where he took the road leading to Knoxdale. Upon arriving at that place he made inquires for a Justice of the Peace, and upon being directed to Esq., Steiner, he appeared before that officer and stated that on last Friday, the 25th ult., he hired a horse and buggy in Sharon, Mercer county, Pa., for the ostensible purpose of going to a coal bank a few miles distant from that place, but that he had driven them to Brookville, and had there endeavored to sell the buggy, and giving other minor facts connected with the transaction. He also stated that in year 1867 he was one of a party who murdered a man named Sproul, in Washington, Washington county, Pa.; that they murdered him for his money and procured $45, and that they tied his wife to a bed to prevent her from raising an alarm. Upon the strength of this confession, Esq., Steiner committed him to jail, as above stated.

On Tuesday morning Cheriff McPherson telegraphed to the parties in Sharon from whom Daley stated he had procured the horse and buggy, briefly stating the facts in the case, so far as concerned them, and received the following in reply:

SHARON, PA., October 29, 1872.

Hold man and horse. We are coming immediately.

SAM'L LIDDLE.

At the same time Sheriff McPherson also telegraphed to the Sheriff of Washington county, informing him of the confession of Daley, in regard to the murder of Sproul, and asking for some information. To this telegram he received a reply, directing him to hold Dailey, and informing him that a man named Sproul had been murdered in that county in March, 1867.

These telegrams confirm Dailey's statement and there is no doubt that the mystery which has clung to a foul murder for the past five years will now be completely cleared up. That he surrendered himself to the authorities may at first seem strange, but when we reflect that he was penniless and friendless, that his fears had been awakened by the action of Mr. Emery, that to the guilt-stricken wretch even the falling leaves on his lonely road were silent accusers, and that the weight of the terrible secret which he had locked within his breast for five long years of dread and suspense, was ever oppressing him, his action, is not all suprising."

Perfect Work.

The vehicles turned out at the great carriage manufactory of Messrs. Workman & Davis, Nos. 42 to 48 inclusive, Arch street, Allegheny city, challenge comparison with the products of any similar establishment in the country. In their construction only the most carefully selected material is used; only the most skilful workmen are employed in the works; all vehicles are artistically finished and are models of neatness and beauty. The firm manufacture every description of vehicles, from six passenger coaches to one man jaggers, including many late improved styles, among the number, one of a buck wagon, claimed to be the best in the world. In order to accommodate any who are prejudiced in favor of Eastern work, the firm keep constantly on hand a large assortment of carriages and wagons made by the most celebrated Eastern manufacturers. At their repository, Nos. 167, 169 and 171 Penn avenue, will be found on exhibition some splendid specimens of carriage work.

"Down with the Prices," is the motto which rules at, and has attracted so many patrons to, the Boston Square Dealing Clothing Store, No. 95 Smithfield street, and 178 Federal, Allegheny.

The Failure of the Andes

Insurance Company of Cincinnati, a company with a large capital and agencies scattered all over the country, has convinced owners of property that better security is afforded by our home institutions than by the agency companies. Any of our readers having property to insure would do well to place their risks in a company which they know to be perfectly reliable, such an one as the National of Allegheny. Office over Second National Bank, corner of Federal street and the Diamond. James E. Stevenson, the Secretary, will inform all desiring to insure their property of the status of the company and the inducements offered. The Company has been doing business in the community for many years, and is justly recognized as one of the staunchest of our home companies. For a really first-class fire insurance, the National offers great advantages.

No matter in what else they may be disappointed, gentlemen will always find first-class accommodations in a tonsorial way at the Central Shaving Saloon, in the Central Hotel, Smithfield street. What Lou Green don't know of his business is not especially worth knowing.

Protect Your Homes.

It is the duty of every man who has secured for himself a home to see that it is insured, for though he may be perfectly able to stand its loss by fire, at one time, at another, through the fluctuations of business, he may not be so well situated financially. A man who has his home secured by a good policy of insurance always feels more contented, but he should be particular to insure in a good company. The Teutonia, of Allegheny, offers especial inducements, and is a company that is in every way reliable. It is a home institution and worthy of home support. The Secretary, Mr. Henry F. Eggers, will be found at the office, 206 Ohio street, Allegheny, to give all desired information.

Practical Workmen.

Among the departments of the large business enjoyed by Mr. S. M. Orr, the Allegheny jeweler, is that of repairing watches and clocks, to which he gives particular attention. In this line Mr. Orr claims to have no superior, and to maintain a high reputation, has secured some of the very best workmen who pride themselves on never turning a job out of their hands that is not perfect. Mr. Orr's facilities for such work also are of such a character that he can attend to all repairing promptly, and guarantee satisfaction whether the repairs be made on a ladies fine watch or a mammoth "corner clock." His store is at 114 Federal street, Allegheny.

The Best Lots for the money, and most convenient, are the Duff lots, Thirteenth ward, Wylie and Webster avenues. Easy terms. HILLERMAN'S, 77 Fourth avenue.

Messrs. Martin & Stamm, manufacturers and dealers in boots and shoes No. 108 Federal street, Allegheny City, may not know how to keep a hotel, but they do know how to keep a boot and shoe store. The large, well selected and varied stock, which always fills their shelves and counters, the uniform politeness of the firm, and fair upright dealing, have built up for these gentlemen a very extensive business. They give general satisfaction in the mechanical as well as in the mercantile branch of their business. No goods leave their store which cannot be guaranteed to the purchaser.

Dreary, Chilly, Bleak November has come again, and the wise should be admonished at once to lay in a supply of clothing. Gentlemen will find this much easier on their purses if they buy at the Boston One Price Clothing Store, No. 95 Smithfield street, or 178 Federal street, Allegheny.

For the Season.

Gentlemen in want of good winter clothing—suits fashionably and well made, of good material—can have their wants supplied at the store of Messrs. Wm. Hespenheide & Co., No. 50 Sixth street. There is now on hand at this house one of the best assortments of goods, such as coatings, vestings, and material for suits, all of which bears the personal guarantee of the firm as to quality. Messrs. Hespenheide & Co. endeavor always to give satisfaction to their patrons by furnishing them with good goods at the most moderate rates, and hence the encouraging success of the house. Gentlemen will find it an excellent place at which to deal.

Evans' Department Store is the place to buy Satchels, Albums, Pocket-books, &c., cheaper than elsewhere. Call and examine the stock at 59 Fifth avenue.

The General Verdict.

The merits of the American Buttonhole and Overseaming machine have been so often referred to in the newspapers, that it seems a work of supererogation to add anything more, but when testimonials are coming daily from parties who have made peactical tests of the American, it is not too much to note at least the general verdict which is that the American is all that a sewing machine could be, and that in practical use it fully justifies the high praise bestowed upon it. The general agent of the American is Mr. James Espy at 178 Liberty street.

In Every Quarter of the Globe where it is known, and there are few indeed where it is not, the Mexican Mustang Liniment takes precedence of all similar preparations. Its transcendant merits have obtained for it a popularity seldom reached by any proprietary medicine. In its infancy the fiat of its success was pronounced in the wide-spread indorsement which it received from physicians, veterinary surgeons, horsemen and the public generally. No one now thinks of questioning its claim to be considered the Standard Liniment of America. TTHS&S

HELP THE TORPID ORGANS.

When the body is in a state of health, the food taken into the stomach acts on the bowels as a stimulant, causing in them that worm-like motion by which their contents are expelled. The liver being in a natural condition, the flow of bile (which is a mild cathartic) into the intestines is ample and regular, and hence the discharges are easy and sufficiently frequent. The reverse of all this constitutes costiveness, and the only true method of cure is to restore the functional activity of the two important organs which use the bowels as a sewer for the egress of waste matter. For this purpose Hostetter's Stomach Bitters can be confidently commended as the most effective of all medicines. It is not too much to say that chronic constipation would be unknown if the Bitters were in universal use as a remedy in the earlier stages of the complaint. At this period of the year, when dyspepsia, with all its kindred disorders are so apt to be engendered and aggravated by the dampness of the atmosphere, this unequal stimulant, tonic and alterative should be taken daily.

THE COURTS.

Yesterday's Proceedings.

SUPREME COURT—FULL BENCH.

Commonwealth vs. Erie Railway Company. Attorney General Brewster moved to strike off the first plea. Order made for a hearing on November 19th.

Wheatham's Appeal, Venango county. Argued by Spencer and Attorney General Brewster for appellant, and by Taylor, contra.

CRIMINAL COURT—JUDGE COLLIER.

In the case of Officer Philip Stacks, reported on trial yesterday, on a charge of felonious assault and battery, the jury found a verdict of guilty of unlawfully wounding Mrs. Trimble. They also recommended him to mercy.

Anna Hanasack was acquited on a charge of assault and battery. The jury divided the costs between defendant and Margaret Gilbert, prosecutrix.

James McQuilton entered a plea of nolle contendere to a charge of assault and battery, and was sentenced to pay a fine of $20 and costs.

Orange Steel was next placed on trial for assault and battery on oath of A. W. Washington. The parties were colored and had a fight over a trivial matter. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty and divided the costs between the litigants.

A cross suit between the same parties was next taken up for surety of the peace, Steel being prosecutor; verdict of not guilty and costs divided.

The next case taken up was that of the Commonwealth vs. Samuel Fleisheirn, indicted for fornication and bastardy, Clara Tenturer prosecutrix. This case was tried at the last term of Court, but the jury failed to agree. Ontrial.

COMMON PLEAS—JUDGES STERRETT AND STOWE.

In the case of Griffiths Wells et ux. vs. A. J. Dougherty et al., previously reported, plaintiff took a non suit.

The first case taken up before Judge Sterrett was that of Sheriff Fleming vs. Henry McSwiggen. This was an action to recover the difference of price of property sold at Sheriff's sale. Property was sold to defendant, but he declined to take it. At a second sale the property was sold for two thousand less than the price McSwiggen bid for it. Verdict for plaintiff for $2,497.

Before Judge Stowe the case of the Pittsburgh Coal Co. vs. F. C. Negley was taken up. This was an action on a book account. Verdict for plaintiff for $681.85.

Trial List for Saturday.

Commonwealth vs.

Fred. Schucht,	John Fox,
William Franz,	Ben. Ebel,
Jas. Whitfield, et. al.	D. W. Wright,
John Meehen, 2 cases.	Stephen Fahey.

No cases will be tried in this Court on Monday or Tuesday, in consequence of the election. Parties and witnesses will be in attendance on Wednesday morning, Nov. 6th, at 9½ a. m.

DISTRICT COURT—JUDGE KIRKPATRICK.

The case of Wm. F. Richardson vs. R. W. Mackey et al., owners of the steamboat Dictator, which was reported on trial yesterday, still occupies the attention of this Court. John Barton and Robert Woods appear for the plaintiff, and H. Bucher Swoope and F. M. Magee for the defence. The case was on trial when Court adjourned.

Castle Shannon Lots.

The recent great auction sale of lots by the Pittsburgh and Castle Shannon Railroad Company, having been appreciated by the generous and liberal patronage of a decerning public, thus assuring beyond peradventure the permanent success of the project of establishing a flourishing village in a fertile section, with the most delightful surroundings, within a few miles of, and convenient of access to the city on the completion of their railroad, and running of regular passenger trains in December next. The company, in view of the advanced season, have resolved to defer further public sales until next spring, but will, meanwhile, in compliance with an urgent demand of numerous parties who were unable to attend the public sale, continue to sell at private sale on their liberal terms of ten per cent. down and twenty quarterly payments. Buyers will call at the general office, No. 75 Fourth avenue, or at their office, Carson street, South Pittsburgh; also at their office at Castle Shannon, George Smith, agent, who is authorized to make sales. Plans of the lots and full information can be had at all the above named places. Now is the time to buy, before passenger trains are put on the road, as after that time lots will not be offered at present prices. TTHS

Homestead Park At Private Sale.

This magnificent suburb on Pan Handle R. R., is now being extensively improved. A few choice building sites will be sold to first purchasers for much less than they will bring at auction. For free transportation to and from the Park, call at the Homestead Bank, 116 Smithfield street. tf

Messrs. Welty Bros., 106 Federal street, Allegheny City, recognizing the fact that there are thousands of people who cannot afford to indulge in costly and showy carpets, keep on hand for their benefit, good carpets, simple in design and construction, which are sold at low figures, and represented to be what they really are. They also offer great inducements in the finer qualities of goods, and keep the very best makes of foreign and domestic carpets, which they purchase in such large quantities, and sell at such a small margin for profits, that they are thus enabled to give unusual bargains.

AT 10 A. M., AT THE COURT HOUSE,

I shall by virtue of an order of the District Court of this county, offer

AT PUBLIC SALE

That valuable manufacturing property in Allegheny, consisting known as the

Anchor Cotton Mills

This property consists of a lot fronting 180 feet on Robinson street, and extending back on Balkam street 240 feet to Lacock street, on which is erected the large five story substantially built brick Cotton Mill, together with a glue house, &c., in adjoining building, all in good repair. The machinery consists in part of about 10,000 spindles, (including 4 pairs self-acting mules), 271 looms. The greater portion of the machinery is of improved pattern, all in good order and now in operation. On an adjoining lot, bounded by Balkam, Lacock and Darragh streets, is erected a large fire-proof cotton warehouse, with capacity of over 1,000 bales uncompressed cotton, stable, &c.

As an inducement to parties wishing to purchase, the terms of sale have been made very liberal. One-fourth of the purchase money to be paid as follows: $10,000 cash, and the rest in equal payments at 12, 18 and 24 months with interest, for which approved endorsed notes shall be given, and the remaining three-fourths of the purchase money are to be paid in 5 equal annual installments, with interest, and to be secured by bond and mortgage on the premises. Possession given in 30 days from sale. Insurance after sale to be kept up by the purchaser for the benefit of the present owners.

oc1 Commissioner.
